

GEN. TWINING REPORTS TO IKE ON RED AIR UNIT

General Nathan F. Twining, Chief of Staff of the USAF, arrived in Gettysburg at 11:33 o'clock this morning to tell President Eisenhower what he thinks about the Russian Air Force. He had just returned from Moscow to where he had been invited by the Kremlin.

The Air Force General had planned to fly to Gettysburg this morning but the inclement weather forced a cancellation of these plans and he made the trip by automobile. Accompanying him were Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson; Secretary for Air Donald Quarles and Admiral Arthur Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

After conferring with the President, the four men lunched at the Hotel Gettysburg and then General Twining held a press conference in the press room of the auditorium of the Hotel Gettysburg. They planned to return to Washington later today.

Gen. Nathan F. Twining reported to President Eisenhower today on his trip behind the Iron Curtain and how Soviet air power stacks up against American.

In the background were rumblings of congressional controversy over who has air superiority at this point.

Twining, chief of staff of the U.S. Air Force, was one of half a dozen Pentagon and White House officials who drove here from Washington on a dreary, rainy morning. Plans to fly had to be scrapped.

Arrive At 11:33 A.M.

Twining and the others arrived at the Eisenhower farm at 11:33 a.m.

The general is just back from eight days of looking and listening in Russia.

And he had provided an advance hint he was ready to report to his commander in chief that Russia outstrips this country already in number of warplanes and is catching up on quality.

Twining did say yesterday he saw a lot in Russia, though not all he wanted to, and he still felt "about the same as I did when I left" about the comparative strengths of the Russian and U.S. air forces.

Twining has said repeatedly in speeches and in testimony to a Senate Armed Forces subcommittee that the Russians are ahead in number of aircraft, in aircraft production and in stepping up the rate of scientific and technical advances.

Had Quiet Fourth

Ike-Twining (Top to come)
Continuing his convalescence from an intestinal operation June 9, Eisenhower was getting back on a limited work schedule in the session with Twining and the others.

By choice, there wasn't a bit of official activity yesterday, in deference to the Fourth of July holiday.

Not by choice, Eisenhower was kept pretty much confined to the (Please Turn to Page 10)

BURGLARY ALARMS

Borough police were called out twice on reported possible burglaries Tuesday night. One was a door open at the press room in the Hotel Gettysburg, where nothing was found missing. The other was a cellar door open at Faber's restaurant. Police searched, then called the owner, Fred Faber, found he had opened the door earlier in the night to permit air to enter the basement.

Police Hunt On Long Island For Kidnap Of Baby Boy

WESTBURY, N. Y. (AP)—A huge police effort was staged today in the heart of Long Island's suburban residential area to trap the Weinberger, son of a well-to-do wholesale druggist.

The kidnaper, who took the baby from a carriage at his home yesterday, demanded $2,000 ransom under threat of death, saying in a note:

"I hate to do this to you but I am in great need."

Police Tight-Lipped

The deadline was variously reported as 10 a.m. or noon today. Police kept tight-lipped as to their plans, but it was learned that a package contrived to look as if it contained the money had been put in an empty garage about a block from the Morris Weinberger home.

This apparently was in accord with the kidnaper's instructions. However, the package did not contain $2,000, but a sheaf of paper slips cut in bill size with actual money on the outside only.

Services were conducted by the Rev. Dr. Norman S. Wolf, supply pastor of St. James Lutheran Church. Interment was made in the Evergreen Cemetery.

MUSSELMAN'S RECEIVE BLACK RASPBERRIES

The Biglerville plant of the C. H. Musselman Company is now receiving black raspberries. The schedule is from 1 to 9 p.m. daily except Saturdays.

An opening price of 25 cents per pound was announced. Payment throughout the season will be on a day-to-day basis subject to market fluctuations. The opening price represents the price paid during the entire season last year.

Having survived damaging frosts, the outlook for raspberries in south central Pennsylvania is excellent, according to Musselman fieldmen. Only limiting factors remaining at this stage is the possibility of continued periods of extreme heat during the harvesting season.

Receive From Other Areas

In addition to Adams County, the Musselman Company annually receives berries from Snyder, York, Franklin and Cumberland Counties as well as sections of Maryland. Most prominent varieties are Cumberland, Morrison and Logan.

Raspberry operations at the Biglerville plant include inspection, barreling, addition of sugar and freezing. Berries are pressed for juice extraction as needed throughout the year. Utilization of the resulting juice includes apple-raspberry jelly and apple-raspberry juice.

ASK $350,000 IN DAMAGE SUIT

An amended complaint filed in the trespass action brought by David L. Mordy, Kansas City, and Albert V. Hutin, whose address is listed as "New York State," as the result of an auto accident August 30, 1953, eight miles south of here on the Emmitsburg Rd. showed each would like $175,000 in damages.

The amended complaint was filed with the Adams County prothonotary after hearing in which local attorneys and the local court were in agreement that the original complaint filed by a Philadelphia law firm did not give sufficient details to permit the defendants to file a defense.

Defendants in the case are Richard E. Reichley, Sunbury, who was driving north at the time, apparently in his own lane of traffic. He is accused in the complaint of driving too fast for conditions in that he didn't stop before he was hit; E. Mae Rhodes, Emmitsburg R. 2, who, according to the complaint, made a left turn without giving a signal in sufficient time, and William Cook Hutchison Jr., Pampa, Tex., who is alleged to have been driving north at an excessive rate of speed under the circumstances and cut to the left to avoid hitting the Rhodes car and ran into the Reichley auto.

Mordy and Hutin were passengers in Hutchison's car. Each received injuries as a result of the crash, according to the amended complaint.

TWO COUNTIANS APPOINTED TO NAVAL ACADEMY

Two Adams County high school graduates have been notified of their appointments to the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis and both will report there on Monday.

The appointees are Merle W. Gorman, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gorman, 22 1/2 Chambersburg St., a graduate of Gettysburg High School last month, and Ronald Koontz, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Koontz, of Aspers, who was graduated this year from Biglerville High School.

Gorman had received an alternate appointment from Congressman James Quigley this spring and then had passed both entrance and physical examinations. The appointment he received is as a "qualified alternate."

Both Starred In Athletics

Gorman played varsity football and basketball and won his letter in track also. He was president of his class in the Senior year and was a member of the National Honor Society.

Koontz was a four-letter man at Biglerville High School in football, basketball, baseball and track and last year won the 440-yard dash in the District 3 track meet at Shippenburg. He was president of the Future Teachers Association at Biglerville High and was a member of the National Honor Society there.

He had planned to go to West Chester Teacher's College in the fall until the Annapolis appointment became available. He had received an alternate appointment from U. S. Senator Edward Martin and then had passed his entrance and physical examinations for the Naval Academy. He also received the appointment as a "qualified alternate."

STUDENT WINS SCHOLARSHIP

George E. Hanrahan, Hanover, has been awarded the first annual York-Shipley, Inc., scholarship at Gettysburg College according to an announcement today by the faculty committee on scholarships. The four-graduate scholarship set up by the York firm will cover full tuition of $575 per year under the comprehensive fee plan.

Hanrahan, who was graduated from Hanover High School last month, will enter Gettysburg in September, majoring in business administration. Controlling factors of the scholarship, established last March, are "character, scholastic ability, leadership, extra-curricular activities, and personality." Applicants must be male students planning majors in business administration.

Hanrahan, an honor student, served as president of the Hanover High School student body and as president of the student council. He was a starting end on the varsity football team and was a member of the basketball and baseball squads. Also active in non-school activities, Hanrahan is an Eagle Scout, a member of the Senior Hi-Y organization, and a member of the Ground Observer Corps.

The seminar, instituted three years ago "for college teachers of science concerned with the religious interpretation of reality," is this year designed "for professors of religion—led by scientists," according to Dr. Luther H. Harshbarger, university chaplain and director of the seminar.

An acute coronary thrombosis caused the death of Moses S. Hershey, York Springs merchant and school director who died suddenly last Friday morning at the Warner Hospital. It was announced today by Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, after receiving reports on an autopsy he had ordered.

Secondary causes included coronary arteriosclerosis with focal myocardial fibrosis.

MOTORIST IS BADLY INJURED THIS MORNING

A Nesquehoning auto driver and a Waynesboro truck operator were injured this morning at about 10 o'clock when rain and slippery roads near York Springs caused the car to skid into the path of the truck.

State police said Leo Drosdak Jr., 24, of Nesquehoning was driving near Wishard's restaurant, about two miles south of York Springs on the Gettysburg Rd. when his car skidded across the highway.

The two vehicles collided nearly head-on. Drosdak was brought to the Warner Hospital in the York Springs ambulance and was admitted as a patient. He suffered abrasions of the forehead, lacerations of the nose and right knee, contusions of the chest and possible fractures of the ribs.

Grayson D. Shealer, 27, Waynesboro, driver of the truck owned by the Wayne Distributing Co., attempted to swerve his truck out of the way of the car, but failed, police said, adding that the car began to skid as Drosdak, a Washington, D. C., policeman, was driving across a small bridge.

Damage was estimated at $450 to the car, which was demolished, and $600 to the truck. Shealer was treated by Dr. William Flickinger, York Springs, for chest injuries.

Cancel Red Cross Classes At 2 Pools

Flooded conditions at the Gettysburg College pool and at Crouse's pool at Littlestown brought cancellation of Red Cross swimming classes for the remainder of this week at both pools. It was announced today by Mrs. Peggy Hill Red Cross executive secretary. Both pools will have to be cleaned before they can be used again.

The weather cancelled classes today at the Battlefield Swimming pool today but classes will be held there Friday if the weather permits, Mrs. Hill said.

Young Wife Of Air Force Major And Mother Of Three Children Admits Killing Landlord, Wife

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A petite, 32-year-old wife of an Air Force major told sheriff's deputies today she stabbed her elderly landlord and his wife to death when her check forgery scheme backfired.

Deputies said Mrs. Blanche Jacobs, mother of three, spent three days trying to conceal the deaths of her "close" friends, then told her husband, who took her to police. Mrs. Jacobs walked into police headquarters last night and announced, "I want to report a double murder," police said.

She was accompanied by her husband Maj. Eugene W. Jacobs, 35, who said he had doubted the bizarre story she blurted out to him some time earlier.

Multiple Stab Wounds

Authorities checked and found the bodies of Andrew J. Robinson, 74, and his wife Maude, 73, side by side in the bathroom of their suburban Groveport home. Their bodies showed multiple stab wounds.

Gettysburg's Battle Anniversary festival has been "rained out" for tonight, Chairman Glenn Weishaar announced this morning, adding that "we hope for better weather Friday and Saturday night." The recreation field was described as a "swamp" as a result of 3.6 inches of rain in two days.

Despite heavy rainfall throughout most of the afternoon July 4 and one shower that occurred while the parade was passing, an estimated 12,000 turned out Wednesday evening to watch the two-mile 93rd Battle Anniversary parade as it made its way through the streets of Gettysburg.

Most of the spectators were jammed into a nine block area from Howard St. at Springs Ave., to Lincoln Square and then on Baltimore St. to Breckenridge.

Many Do Not Compete

Many of the units, such as the Second Army's band (with kilted bagpipers) and marching unit, the local bands, and National Guard were not competing for the prizes.

Both the Gettysburg High School senior and junior bands were in the procession but were not competing for prizes. The local high school bands contribute their services in the community parade and never have competed for the cash prizes that the out-of-town bands have been awarded.

Winners of approximately $1,000 in awards were selected by the judges, Carl Menchey, George Zering, Lawrence M. Sheads, George Naugle, L. D. Sheeler and Ray Hoffman.

Alpha Fire Company Wins

The state champion Littlestown Alpha Fire Co. marching unit won the first prize of $125 for best appearing fire company with 35 or more in line. Second award, $75, went to the Pleasant Hill fire company.

The $25 award for best appearing fire company auxiliary was won by Stewartstown.

The Honor Guard of the Albert J. Lentz American Legion Post 202, of Gettysburg, was awarded the $50 prize for best appearing marching unit other than a fire company and the Francis X. Elder Post American Legion of Emmitsburg won the $25 second award.

Prizes for best band were: First, $75, Littlestown High School; second, $50, Dallastown American Legion; third, $25, Fairfield High School.

Drum corps awards were: $75, Harold H. Bair Post American Legion, Hanover; $50, York Post 127, and third, a tie between East Berlin Drum and Bugle Corps and the Taneytown American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps. Each was given $20.

SUV WINS AGAIN

The Sons of Union Veterans Post 112 of Gettysburg won first prize, $75, for the best historical float, the seventh time the unit has taken the top award in the last eight parades. This year's float, depicting the fighting at Gettysburg, was set to music, with Connie Riley playing the Battle Hymn of the Republic on the marimba on the float.

The Adams County Girl Scout Council float, depicting an old-time school, won the $50 second award. The Gettysburg Women of the Moose, whose float showed Lincoln writing the Gettysburg Address at the Wills House, won third prize, $25, and the Junior Chamber of Commerce float, showing the eternal Light Peace Memorial received the $15 fourth award.

After skidding in the rain, the car struck a pair of stone steps, police said. Damage was estimated at $800 to the car. Mrs. Hamman was brought to the Warner Hospital in the local ambulance.

A four-year-old Camp Hill girl was struck by a car in another July 4 accident, but escaped with slight injuries, police also reported. The child, Mycia Beamer, of Camp Hill, ran across the Bonneville Rd. two miles east of here at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday night and was hit by a car driven by George Decker Jr., 20, York. The child was treated at the hospital here for minor brush burns abrasions and contusions.

Speeding Passenger Train Rams Illinois Fireworks Crowd; 3 Die

FOX LAKE, Ill. (AP)—A speeding passenger train rammed into a crowd watching a Fourth of July fireworks display last night from a railroad track. Three persons were killed and five injured.

An estimated 80 to 100 lined the track. Several others were on a nearby trestle when the three-coach Milwaukee Road train neared this northern Illinois resort community.

Some 500 others were in the fenced-in American Legion field in Riverside Island, scene of the fireworks display, sponsored by the Legion. The first bomb in the display was exploded—shortly after 9 p.m.—when the holiday special, bound for Chicago from nearby Walworth, Wis., approached.

Firemen and legionnaires had warned the group on the track and trestle that a train was due. They urged the crowd to leave the tracks and watch the fireworks display in the Legion field. About 15 minutes earlier a freight train had passed and the group left the track and trestle, only to return. Fireman Jim Tutz said he saw the passenger train approaching and didn't believe any one was in danger.

"After the train had passed," Tutz said, "I saw seven bodies strewn along the tracks."

"There was a stunned silence after the accident. There was no panic."

Didn't Hear Whistle

Killed were Mrs. Lillian Pavelchik, 33, and her son Gary, 7, Round Lake, Ill., and Carl Strand, 42, Waukonda, Ill.

Police said witnesses reported Mrs. Pavelchik, who was pregnant, had pushed another son, about 10, off the track before it struck the group. Her husband was parking his car nearby and was to join the family on the track.

Policeman Mel Platenka, 29, said the noise of the crowd and the fireworks apparently had drowned out the passenger train whistle to many as it headed into the station, about a half mile from the Legion field.

NEW ANGLE IN TEXAS GUNFIGHT IS UNCOVERED

STILLWELL, Okla. (AP)—A witness to Tuesday's unexplained gunfight to the death between two eastern Oklahoma political rivals disclosed he overheard one of the men accuse the other of "breaking up his home."

The new witness, uncovered today, was Dave Kirby, a 61-year-old night watchman at nearby Westville, home of Bob Alberty, 32, killed in the quick-draw exchange of gunfire with Adair County Sheriff Chester Crittenden, 51. Each was married and had two children.

Investigators first believed the only witness to the affray had been the jailer, Ike Martin Jr., 25, who was standing alongside Crittenden when he was felled by slugs from Alberty's pistol.

Taking Him To Jail

Kirby said today he rode to Stillwell with Alberty to inquire about election returns. He said he and Alberty were standing talking with two men when Crittenden drove up.

"He came over to where we were and Ches commenced cursing and claimed Bob was breaking up his home. Ches said Bob had been lying on him and wrecking his home," Kirby related.

The watchman said Crittenden then told Alberty to come along, that he was taking him to jail. "Bob never refused going. He just went along," Kirby said.

Kirby said a man named J. D. Burnett told the sheriff that Alberty was in jail with a gun.

Alberty Won Election

Kirby said the sheriff declared "Well, let's go up there and see." Kirby said he entered the jail with Crittenden and as the sheriff passed the kitchen door the shooting started.

"I couldn't say who shot first. I was standing there about 20 feet from the spot. They fired three or four shots apiece," Kirby said.

Martin had earlier said Alberty fired from a darkened room. He said Alberty fired twice and he believed one bullet missed but the other caught the sheriff in the chest.

Returns in the contest for the office of sheriff showed Alberty with 1,646 votes to Crittenden's 1,222 in Tuesday's election. Two other candidates, Ed Dudley had 178 votes and George Asbell had 129.

2 HELICOPTERS, MOUNTAINEER JOIN IN RESCUE

By LAWRENCE MALKIN

GRAND CANYON, Ariz. (AP) — Two helicopter pilots and a mountaineer today planned to join in a dangerous scheme to reach the main wreckage of a United Airlines DC7 that crashed in the Grand Canyon with another big airliner five days ago.

The helicopter pilots, Capt. Walter Spriggs of Smackover, Ark., and C.W.O. Howard Proctor of Kings Mountain, N. C., volunteered last night to try to fly a mountain climber to the spot where the DC7 crashed, presumably after colliding in flight with a TWA Super Constellation. The wreckage of the Constellation lies less than a mile from where the DC7 went down.

Plan Daring Attempt
Spriggs and Proctor said they would leave for the crash scene today with Allen Auten of Denver, a member of the Colorado Mountain Club.

If Auten could be dropped safely on the small ridge that holds much of the DC7 wreckage, he could lower ropes to other climbers trying to scale the butte to reach the bodies of the crash victims.

The ridge is about 1,000 feet above the Colorado River. The bodies of only two of the 128 killed have been identified. The two were Marine Capt. James W. Tobias Jr., Philadelphia, and Carl Matland, Pittsburgh, Pa. Both were passengers of the DC7.

Their bodies were found yesterday near the bottom of the butte. A single funeral service will be held next Monday in Flagstaff, south of the canyon, for those killed in the crash of the Constellation.

RED STOOGES PUSHING PROBE INTO NEW RIOTS

BERLIN (AP) — A Communist Polish commission pressed its inquiry today into the Poznan riots that left hundreds dead and wounded.

The commission—granted power of life and death by Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz—began hearings yesterday in Poznan, scene of last week's bloody uprising for food and freedom.

The Red body heard evidence from workers on what caused the outbreak. Then it brought in Poznan officials to answer charges of "cowardice and negligence."

The official East German news service said Cyrankiewicz told officials the commission would make recommendations to the Cabinet after it completed its inquiry.

It appeared that the sweeping purge would extend into the ranks of government and party.

Deny Rebel Executions

Reached by telephone, Lech Jeska, editor of the Communist paper Gazeta Poznanska in Poznan, denied rumors that some rebels already had been executed. Secret police courts have begun trying scores of workers described as "secondary" violators in the uprising.

The Warsaw radio announced, meanwhile, that Poland's Red Cross had turned down a U.S. offer to send free food to Poznan and other Polish areas.

The broadcast declared the offer was refused because "this was not meant as genuine help for Poland, but had a propaganda character and was connected with the unfriendly attitude toward Poland."

Half Cherry Crop Is Frozen In May

HARRISBURG (AP) — A federal-state crop survey showed that freeze damage during the month of May cut the 1956 red cherry crop to about half of last year's production.

The new forecast is for 6,500 tons compared with 13,000 last year. The average for the last 10 years is 7,260 tons.

The survey showed that freezes on May 17 and 25 caused heavy damage in the southeastern part of the state, particularly Adams County.

Unfavorable weather in the Erie fruit belt during pollination periods probably caused more damage there than the freeze.

Red cherry harvesting probably will begin Monday in Adams County and about a week later in Erie County.

LEADER SAYS TOLL ROADS ARE THINGS OF PAST

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Leader said today tolls on the Pennsylvania Turnpike could be ended if the federal government made the superhighway across the state a part of its road aid program.

"It seems to me we're moving from the era of toll roads to an era of free interstate arteries," the governor told his first news conference after returning from a month's trip to Europe.

"I honestly think that toll roads are becoming a thing of the past." The job of making the turnpike, running 360 miles between the Ohio border and the Delaware River at New Jersey, a part of the federal road system would require action by Congress, Leader said.

Congress recently appropriated 380 million dollars to Pennsylvania for expansion of the interstate highway system in the Keystone State. Grants are based on 90 per cent federal participation, 10 per cent, state.

Part Of U. S. System
Leader noted that the turnpike is in effect a part of the national road system with millions of out-of-state motorists riding it every year since it was first opened in 1940.

He asked why states like Pennsylvania and others which went ahead with toll superhighways should be penalized while other states are going to be given free interstate roads.

"We are holding up on any further action in expanding the (turnpike) system until the U.S. Bureau of Roads tells us just what will be part of the interstate system in Pennsylvania," Leader said.

Asked to be more explicit as to how the turnpike could be taken over by the federal government since it is now, in effect, in the hands of the bondholders, Leader said:

"I am not saying it should be taken over, I'm saying it will be." Then he explained that the remaining outstanding bonds on the turnpike could be retired by federal grants with the state joining in. About 180 million dollars is still outstanding on the original superhighway with 288 millions more out on the Delaware River Extension and the Northeastern Extension to Scranton.

"Then I would hope that they would make it a free road," Leader said.

BARDEN WASHES HIS HANDS OF SCHOOL BILL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Barden (D-N.C.), chairman of the House Education Committee, said today "I'm washing my hands" of the 1½-billion-dollar school construction bill, but agreed to call it up for final consideration in the House.

Barden told newsmen after a huddle with House leaders that he was stepping aside as floor manager of the bitterly disputed measure when the House meets to complete action on the measure.

He said he could not support it "in its present form, which includes an antisegregation section voted into the bill Tuesday."

Will Oppose It
By stepping out as manager of the bill, Barden created an almost unprecedented situation of a committee chairman abandoning legislation midway in debate.

Barden's decision to call the bill back onto the floor was at the urging of Democratic House leaders and despite a personal inclination against doing so.

Barden told newsmen he not only would not support the bill, with its antisegregation provision, but would take the floor to oppose it.

The antisegregation rider, sponsored by Rep. Powell (D-N.Y.) would deny federal aid to states which continue to segregate school children by race.

After its adoption Tuesday, key backers considered the bill to be doomed.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court today denied a rehearing to Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, convicted wife slayer.

The court had upheld his conviction on a second-degree murder charge a few weeks ago.

The court's action today in denying him a rehearing clears the way for an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court if the osteopath chooses.

Sheppard was convicted in December 1954 of the bludgeoning slaying of his pregnant wife, Marilyn, in their Bay Village home early in the morning of July 4, 1954.

On The U.S. Political Front

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sen. Estes Kefauver laid claim yesterday to a "little more than 250 votes now" for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The Tennesseean's tally, stated at a news conference in Portia, Ark., is something better than half the 400 to 500 delegates claimed by backers of Adlai Stevenson.

That both still are well short of the 688½ votes it will take to gain the nomination at the party's convention in Chicago next month supported the contention of former President Harry S. Truman that the convention "is wide open."

Truman told newsmen in New York he believes "any qualified man has a chance." He denied published reports that he and Gov. Averell Harriman of New York were "plotting" to sidetrack Stevenson.

"Outside My Ken"

"That's the first I've heard of it," he said. "Plots are outside my ken. The convention is wide open . . . It wouldn't be fair for me to try to run the Democratic convention, because I have no desire to be a political boss."

Stevenson, speaking at Bloomington, Ill., decried what he termed the free world's lack of leadership to take the role of "calm and confident spokesman for free men everywhere" in the wake of the "powerful blow for freedom" by rebellious Poles.

He told his Fourth of July audience that the United States is "stalled in the middle of the road . . . adrift, leaderless, in a troubled, anxious world." Americans, he said, are "being fed a diet of sweet complacency that can only lead to fatty degeneration."

Ex-Senator Francis J. Myers Dies Today At 54 Of Leukemia

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Former U.S. Sen. Francis J. Myers died shortly after 1 a.m. today at Graduate Hospital.

Doctors said that Myers, who was 54, died as a result of leukemia.

(Senator Myers was well known in Adams County and had spoken here a number of times.)

The long-time Democratic leader represented Pennsylvania in Congress for three terms and was in the U.S. Senate for one term ending in 1951.

Given 80 Pints Of Blood

The first indication of his fatal illness, doctors said, came in 1955, when he developed symptoms of anemia. He was admitted to Misesicordia Hospital at that time but the exact nature of his illness was not determined then.

He returned to Misesicordia Hospital several times after that and in September, 1955, study of his case was continued at Graduate Hospital.

His condition eventually was diagnosed as leukemia and in all he received 80 pints of blood in an effort to stem the development of the disease.

Death Not Expected

A spokesman said that while Myers had been a patient at the hospital for the last few days his death was not believed imminent. Myers is survived by his widow, the former Catherine Mary Hall, of Lansdowne; three children, John Francis, Kathleen, and Barbara; and his mother, Mrs. John F. Myers.

A native of Philadelphia, he attended the George Brooks Grammar School here. He was graduated from St. Joseph's Preparatory School, St. Joseph's College and

Bustling Algiers Slowed By Strike

ALGIERS (AP) — A general strike ordered by nationalist rebels slowed normally bustling Algiers to a crawl today. French authorities ordered a heavy crack-down on strikers.

Virtually all Moslems stayed away from work in this city of about 600,000 whose population is divided almost equally—Moslem and European. The nationalists had called the strike for this 126th anniversary of the French occupation of Algiers, threatening to shoot anyone seen on the streets.

The French alerted troops, called out extra military patrols and put helicopters on standby to keep watch over this administrative capital.

They ordered that all stores failing to open today be shut for a month. They closed Moslem cafes and bars until further notice and canceled the licenses of some. They called striking government employees to appear before disciplinary councils.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

York Springs Orders Pumper: At a special meeting of the York Springs Fire Association, the organization voted to purchase a new 350 gallon pumper from the Laverne company of Laverne, Wisconsin. The purchase will be made through B. G. Walter, Biglerville, local representative. The new machine will cost $2,500. The pumper will be mounted on a Reo chassis. The triple combination apparatus will be equipped with a 100-gallon booster tank. The new fire fighting equipment will replace a small pumper that has been in use for about ten years in the York Springs borough. The old machine, it was stated, is not adaptable to use on borough water mains. Installation of water mains in the borough is now in progress.

Tomatoes For Canning Are Showing Gain: Tomato culture for canning purposes in Pennsylvania is increasing at a rate which, if maintained, will give the state by 1940 an acreage of 35,000 or a gain of 1,000 per cent since 1929, J. Hansell French, secretary of agriculture, revealed today. Adams county, one of the first to take the lead in tomato production, is getting more competition each year as more farmers turn to the crop.

Only 3,400 acres were devoted to growing the "improved love apple" in the state seven years ago. The acreage this year is 14,000, a gain of 320 per cent.

Fire Company Approves New $3,900 Pumper: At a special meeting Thursday evening the Gettysburg fire company unanimously approved the report of the apparatus committee and two engineers named by the borough council last year recommending the purchase of a new 400-gallon American La France pumper. The apparatus committee was comprised of James A. Aumen, Wilber J. Stallsmith and Horace L. Bender appointed by the fire company and A. E. Hutchison and Joseph E. Codori, designated by town council.

After the motion had been made, President Aumen reminded the firemen that since the borough had assisted in the purchase of the old Boyd pumper in 1916, the fire company "has given to the borough the sum of $22,000 in the past 20 years." He listed the purchase of the other pieces of fire apparatus now in use at the engine house, improvements to the engine house, purchase of the siren and "other equipment that benefits the residents of the borough" as representing an outlay by the firemen of that amount, with all of the money raised through the efforts of the firemen.

County Girls To Enter Camp: Six Adams county girls will attend the south central district 4-H girls camp at Pine Grove Furnace next week.

Miss Mary Louise Bradstock, home economics extension representative for Adams County, will be a member of the camp staff together with home economics representatives from eight other counties that will send girls to the camp.

The group from this county includes: Mildred Wisler, Abbottstown; June Gouker, Barlow; Lucille Reaver, Barlow; Betty Shealy, Aspers; Theresa Murren, Brush-town; and Gertrude Andrew, Cash-town.

Grain Prices Gaining Here: A steady gain in the price of all grains is reported at local warehouses.

Drought conditions in the mid-west and the grasshopper scourge that swept some sections of Canada are partly responsible for the rise in prices.

Local warehouses today were paying 85 cents for old and new wheat; corn, 75 cents; rye, 50 cents; new barley, 40 cents; oats, 40 cents.

Pageant Cast At Fairfield: The cast in the pageant "America in the Making" presented as part of the Fairfield Homecoming has been announced as Betty Rein-schlag, Arlene Rohrbach, Rodney

Today's Talk

GOOD THINGS
There is something about good things they can grow better. Said Robert Henri: "There is always a new surprise each time you see them."

I have hanging in my office a portrait of a peasant woman. I never look upon it without seeing something else there — something that makes it an improvement over the last time I looked at it. Lincoln's face was like that, but I know of no portrait in paint that gave the total Lincoln. As a writer once remarked, "There is something else there."

Things that you look better every time you look upon them. Places that you look better every time you re-visit them. Your home, country camp, or your friend, each has its growing appeal. How colorless life would be if this were not true!

Good things are the perpetual things, those which influence and control our lives. Work — any useful sort — is an elemental good thing! William T. Stead, the noted English writer and editor, who went down with the Lusitania, was known as "that good man, Stead." Man is the best of God's good creations.

The great founder of the Kansas City Star, Col. W. R. Nelson, once told me that no matter how good an idea is, there is always a better one. Think over the great inventions during the past few years and note how true this is. Review the progress made in automobiles, and other useful inventions, and what changes for the better! Good things keep improving on themselves.

Good things, into which have gone love and skill, keep enriching their creators, as exemplified by antiques, Oriental rugs, and tapestries. Good things in books live on. Whatever is useful and well done is a candidate for something better.

There are good things all about us, only awaiting our appreciation and understanding. All nature is good. It feeds us, teaches us great truths, and inspires us with a love for the Creator, who looked upon His creation — as good.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Autobiography." Protected, 1956, By The George Matthews Adams Service.

THE JOY OF THE PRIZE

If success only mean the reward that it brings.

If it only meant money and fame.

If victory meant only medals and things.

There wouldn't be much in the game.

But the joy of the prizes is not in themselves

Or the silver and gold that is in them.

For you value the trinkets you keep on your shelves

For the fight that you put up to win them.

If all that you got from the top was the view

And the thought that at last you were high

And possessed something only attained by the few.

Then the summit would not satisfy.

For those on the top drink from misery's cup

And often encounter regret there.

And the joy that they treasure's in clambering up

And the fight that it cost them to get there.

For jewels mean nothing, and worthless is gold

However by many they're yearned.

For jewels and gold may be purchased and sold

And they're only worth while when they're earned.

There is only one thing that enriches a prize

And that is your fight to attain it.

Success would grow common and cheap in your eyes

Were it not for your struggles to gain it.

Clarence Ancarrow, 18, Submits Winning Sketch For Emmitsburg Bicentennial Cachet; Wins $25

PRIZE-WINNING EMMITSBURG CACHET

Clarence Ancarrow, 18-year-old Emmitsburg High School junior, was judged the winner of the Emmitsburg Bicentennial Cachet Contest, according to an announcement today by the Contest Committee. Miss Therese Klessner, of Stephens City, Va., a junior at St. Joseph College, was awarded second prize, and Robert Orner, 231 N. Seton Ave., Emmitsburg, placed third.

In making the announcement, Chairman Philip B. Sharpe of the contest committee stated: "The talent exhibited by the many entrants made the task of the board of judges extremely difficult. My grateful thanks to Chairman Paul L. Roy, and his assisting judges, Ernest Krape, Richard B. Krick and Robert J. Kenworthy. These judges were selected from Gettysburg, that they might be totally unfamiliar with the individual handicraft of any entrant. The only identification on any entry was a number assigned by myself and thus the names of the winners was not known to the judges until after the decision was made. I congratulate the winners and wish to thank all those who submitted their excellent sketches."

Young Ancarrow's winning sketch has been copyrighted and will become the official cachet for the Bicentennial year starting January 1, 1957. Special dedication ceremonies are being planned and will be announced later in the year.

A total of $35 was awarded in prize money, donated by the Emmitsburg Lions Club, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the American Legion. Ancarrow's first prize was $25, second was $10 and third was $5.

The judges selected the entry of 15-year-old Thomas Zurgabe of the Ninth grade in St. Joseph's High School.

Picking Probable Winners On July 4th Is Like Blind Man's Bluff In Both Major Leagues

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Tagging the July 4 leaders as the probable winners in the major league pennant races is a game of chance at best. This year it's a game of blind man's bluff.

Milwaukee and Cincinnati, each having to battle back to salvage a split, and Brooklyn are so close you could cover them with a bikini bathing suit after yesterday's National League double-headers.

And while the New York Yankees still boast a 3½-game edge in the American League, Mickey Mantle's on the bench with an injured knee. Who's going to bet on the Yanks without Mantle?

Great Pitching, Hitting
Great pitching and heavy swatting won for the three NL leaders. Milwaukee dropped the opener to St. Louis 6-4 on errors, then bounced back 6-1 as Bob Buhl spun a three-hitter to retain the Braves' 5½-percentage-point lead. Chicago's Cubs edged runner up Cincinnati 5-4, but then were bopped by back-to-back home runs by Ted Kluszewski, who had three for the day, and All-Star Frank Robinson in the 4-3 nightcap as unbeaten Brooks Lawrence won his 11th.

And Brooklyn backed up Don Newcombe's 10th victory with 18 hits for a 15-2 runaway in the opener against New York, then eased up as rookie Don Drysdale and reliever Clem Labine came within two outs of a shutout in the 6-1 afterpiece. That hoisted the Braves within a half-game of first. It also dropped the Giants into the cellar.

A six-run first inning gave Pittsburgh the second game 8-4 after Philadelphia won the opener 4-2.

Yanks Break Even
The Yankees broke even by belting the Red Sox 9-4 after losing 7-6 in 11 innings. Second-place Chicago split with Kansas City, winning 5-2 as Billy Pierce claimed his 13th victory, then losing 3-2.

Third-place Cleveland swept two from Detroit 6-4 and 3-1. Washington beat Baltimore 10-8, then lost 7-4 in a rain-shortened, six-inning nightcap.

Ken Boyer rapped his 20th home run for the Cards, but it was five unearned runs in the seventh that won the opener for St. Louis and Murry Dickson. Gene Conley lost it. Buhl and Lindy McDaniel were in a scoreless duel until the Braves scored three in the seventh of the nightcap and then Hank Aaron socked a three-run homer in the eighth. Card Manager Fred Hutchinson, just back from a three-day suspension, was chased for the fifth time this season in a nightcap dispute.

The Cubs scored two in the ninth, getting a winner on Dee Fondy's sacrifice fly, to beat the Redlegs and Art Fowler. Ernie Banks hit his 21st homer and Walt Moryn his sixth for the Cubs. In the sixth inning of the second game, Ted Kluszewski walked off the 20th and Robinson followed with his 19th. Big Klu hit a two-run homer in the first inning of both games. Jim King homered twice for all the Cub runs off Lawrance.

Homer For Campanella
Newk, who hadn't worked since June 21, had a two-hit shutout for seven innings, then left for a pinch-hitter in the ninth. Roy Campanella and Duke Snider each homered. The Brooks got three in the first inning of the finale, then added two on Carl Furillo's third-inning double.

The Phils got all their first-game runs on a pair of homers and a single by Elmer Valo and a home run by Marv Blaylock as Harv Haddix won his sixth, striking out eight. Two errors and six hits provided the Bucs' big first against Stu Miller in the nightcap. Elroy Face won it.

Mantle Puled won it.
Mantle pulled some ligaments throwing to the plate after fielding Jim Piersall's bust-up single in the 11th inning of the opener. The injury wasn't considered serious, but the Mick's hurts have a habit of getting worse before they get better. Ted Williams homered for the Boston and Billy Martin slugged one for the Yanks, who scored four in the ninth only to have the Red Sox tie it with one in the last of the ninth.

Pierce's 8th Win
Bill Skowron hit a two-run homer and Don Larsen smacked a solo shot in the nightcap. Larsen won with relief help. Piersall had 6-for-10 for the day.

Pierce struck out eight for his eighth straight victory while the White Sox scored three in the first off Jack McMahon. The As got three off Gerry Staley in the first to win the nightcap for Alex Keller, with relief help from art, Dittmar and Bobby Shantz.

Al Smith had five hits and two walks for the Indians, stretching his hitting streak to 17 games, and produced a two-run triple in the ninth to win the opener for Herb Score. Vic Wertz smacked his 18th homer with two on to break a 1-1 tie. Early Wynn spun a four-hitter in the nightcap, with Smith again batting in two runs. Washington had an 8-0 lead after four innings, but barely got home safe in the opener. Baltimore scored four in the sixth to win the nightcap, which Senator owner Calvin Griffith protested. Umpire Ed Hurley, permitting play in a sixth-inning drizzle, called it in the seventh although the Nats contended the rain hadn't increased. Hurley cited thunder and lightning.

Today's Game, 6:30
Lions (Miller 2-5), vs. Rotary (Johnson 4-1)

Interrupted temporarily by rain and finally halted by darkness after five complete innings, the Lions had to reach way down in their bag of luck to pull out an 8-7 win over the G. L. Bream Garage team on the Little League field Tuesday evening.

The Breammen jumped to a 5-0 lead after two innings, scoring two in the first on a single by Pat Redding, a walk to Johnny Chrimer and an infield error allowing Redding and Eckert to tally. Three more runs were added in the top of the second on singles by Roy Fairman, Redding, Mark Eckert and a double by Jim McClear.

Rain stopped the game for 12 minutes after two innings giving the Lions a rest before breaking into the scoring column in the bottom of the third. Free passes to Eugene Miller and Dick Crist and an outfield miscue enabled Miller to race home.

Lions Rally

After the Garagemen tallied their final two runs in the top of the fourth, the Lions came right back to blast out three hits and cross the plate four times. Singles by Eugene Miller, Weikert, and Howie Miller were the main factors in the Lion scoring.

Coach Fred Baker's Lion team went into the bottom of the fifth trailing 7-5. A three-run rally was enough to give the last place boys their second win before the umpires called the game due to darkness.

The big blow in the final frame was a double to deep center by Doug Appier.

Little Pat Redding, the spark of the Bream infield, was the game's top hitter with three safeties for trips to the plate. Jim McClear belted a pair of doubles for the losers. Dick Crist and Howie Miller each collected a pair of hits for the winners. Howie Miller, who went in as a relief hurler in the fourth, receives the win, his second in seven decisions, while Mark Eckert is charged with his fourth loss against two wins.

WANTS HARPER MATCHED WITH JOHNNY SAXTON

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Manager Sid Flaherty called today for an overweight match between his boxer, Maurice Harper, and welterweight champion Johnny Saxton.

Judging from his televised showing last night in outpointing New York's Joe Miceli, the Oakland fighter has a long way to the top class.

Harper admitted he was "rusty" after a layoff since last August and Miceli, the left hook specialist, who held a 3-point advantage at 149, slugged his way into an early lead and sliced the local boxer's left eyelid in the first round.

Miceli Claims Bout

Harper began scoring with superior boxing and finished the 10-round fast to a unanimous decision. Referee Jack Downey gave Miceli only the first round, scoring 99-93. The judges saw it clear, Eddie James 98-94 and Vern Bybee 97-95, the same as the Associated Press. California rules give the winner of each round 10 points, the loser up to 9.

Miceli, who flew out immediately after the bout for New York, said he thought he won by a narrow margin.

"He hit me low a couple of times," he said. It was obvious to ringiders that Harper had landed some punches below the belt during the battle. There was no penalty. The only time Miceli appeared hurt was in the ninth and Joe surged back with a vengeance.

Coach Fred Baker's Lion team went into the bottom of the fifth trailing 7-5. A three-run rally was enough to give the last place boys their second win before the umpires called the game due to darkness.

The big blow in the final frame was a double to deep center by Doug Appier.

Little Pat Redding, the spark of the Bream infield, was the game's top hitter with three safeties for trips to the plate. Jim McClear belted a pair of doubles for the losers. Dick Crist and Howie Miller each collected a pair of hits for the winners. Howie Miller, who went in as a relief hurler in the fourth, receives the win, his second in seven decisions, while Mark Eckert is charged with his fourth loss against two wins.

Beta Sigma Phi Sorority Is Well Known For Its Efforts In Various Community Works

Beta Sigma Phi sorority is probably best known in the community by its prize winning Fourth of July floats, its annual participation in the Halloween parade and the Easter egg hunt, another yearly event. Their goal, "self-improvement and the development of interest in all fields of knowledge through study," and the means members of the sorority take to achieve their goal are probably the least known facts about the organization.

The Gettysburg chapter of the international sorority was formed in 1947 with 11 charter members. Mrs. Donald Sheely, who had moved to Gettysburg that year, was instrumental in founding the chapter. A member in Pittsburgh, Mrs. Sheely "rushed" the girls of the community in order to secure members. Currently an active member of Beta Sigma Phi Mrs. Sheely has enjoyed a 15-year membership.

Mrs. Fred Wilson (then Miss Eloise McClellan) was the first president of the Epsilon Delta Chapter. Other officers elected that year were: vice president, Mrs. Donald Sheely; secretary, Jane Buehler; treasurer, Miss Louise Duncan.

Three Active Years

Three significant years mark the history of the sorority. In addition to the Epsilon Delta chapter, or, as it is also called, the Ritual of Jewels chapter, the club formed a second chapter in 1951 called the Exemplar chapter, into which girls are invited after they have worked in the Ritual of Jewels chapter for four years. It acts as an advisory or "big sister" chapter.

Membership in the Exemplar chapter is optional because of the additional study involved. The Gettysburg sorority boasts that no members, who have received the degree, ever rejected the honor.

The first officers of Exemplar chapter were: President, Mrs. David Garfinkle Jr.; vice president, Mrs. Donald Sheely; recording secretary, Mrs. Julius Swope; treasurer, Mrs. Holbert Riley.

Chapter In Littlestown

Today nine years after the start of a Beta Sigma Phi chapter in Adams County the popularity of the organization has grown and spread to surrounding towns. In April 1957 a new chapter of Beta Sigma Phi called the Eta Tau or "silver anniversary" chapter was formed in Littlestown, after a preliminary meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Bernard Little, Littlestown. Six pledges attended that meeting March 22, 1956.

Officers for the new chapter were installed April 5 at the sorority rooms, Chambersburg St. Miss Mae Kuhn, president of the Epsilon Delta "Ritual" chapter, conducted the installation. The following were installed: President, Mrs. Richard D. Thomas; vice president, Mrs. John F. Feeser Jr.; secretary, Mrs. Charles W. Simons; treasurer, Mrs. Clyde W. Crouse; member-advisor, Mrs. Bernard Little.

Fashion Shows, Floats

The Littlestown Eta Tau chapter is called the "Silver Anniversary" chapter because it was formed in the 25th year of the international group's founding.

Dances, fashion shows, events for children, holiday gifts for needy families and participation in such county drives as Community Chest, Red Cross, Easter Seals, and others, are several ways the sorority pitches into community life. Annual events sponsored by the Ritual of Jewels or Epsilon Delta chapter are a Valentine dance benefitting the Adams County Free Library, a fall fashion show for the chapter's charity fund and an Easter Egg hunt for the children on the seminary grounds.

Spectacular and original floats in the annual Fourth of July parade have captured many prizes for the sorority. A World Peace float in 1955 and a Swan Lake theme in 1954 were the group's more recent efforts. Many parade spectators probably recall the unique "Candyland" float decorated with gumdrop trees and peppermint striped poles reigned over by a king and queen, winners of the Beta Sigma Phi Baby contest that year. A Garden Party float began the sorority's long line of winners in the 1950 parade.

Gifts At Christmas

Food and clothing is given to a needy family at Christmas time and help is given to retarded children through an Easter project by the Exemplar chapter. The chapter also pledged an annual $100 to the hospital fund.

Pumping gas at a local gas station recently was the latest effort of sorority members which not only raised money but exhibited a certain flair for originality. Members are planning to make "gas pumping" an annual project.

On an international scale all chapters of the sorority unite in sponsoring "Girls' Town" in Whiteface, Tex. Cancer research by two women physicians at Brown University is being financed by the national group. They have given as much as $16,000 to cancer research recently.

As described by Mrs. Donald C. Uber, president of the Exemplar chapter.

Two Montour County Banks Will Merge

DANVILLE, Pa. (AP)—The First National Bank of Danville is planning to take over the Montour County Trust Co. by purchasing the latter's assets and assuming its liabilities, the bank announced yesterday.

Stockholders of the Trust Co. and federal and state banking officials must approve the transaction before the papers can be drawn.

The First National is the county's largest financial institution. Officials estimate the bank's assets will total 7½ million dollars and deposits 6½ million after the merger.

chapter, the sorority "is primarily designed as a social, cultural and later a civic organization for young women, usually between the ages of 21 and 35 years." It is non-collegiate and non-sectarian, although a large number of college graduates belong to the sorority.

Members Are Invited

Today the membership of the combined chapters totals 68. Beta Sigma Phi's are invited to membership and are pledged for six months before obtaining full membership. After six months a member becomes part of the Ritual of Jewels or Epsilon Delta chapter. Some of the topics studied are: "Happiness," "Paths To Loveliness" and "Our Conduct, Its Expression And Purpose."

Special studies are designated by the international group for members of the Exemplar chapter, or members may design their own course of study. Several topics studied by the Exemplars are: "The Home We Make" and "Green Thumb."

Eighteen programs a year provide members with an opportunity to conduct an educational and cultural program together with other colleagues. With specialized studies cultural and educational programs and guest speakers, sorority advisors hope to afford members "with a broader knowledge, insight and scope in human, cultural and world affairs."

"Outstanding Girl"

Because the sorority feels so strongly about their goals and their achievement of self-improvement the sorority selects "The Outstanding Girl of the Year" each spring. Some of the "outstanding girl" awards have been presented to the following members: Miss Helen Spangler, Miss Grace E. Myers, Mrs. Selmar Hess, Miss Anne Faber, Mrs. Donald C. Uber, Miss Nickey George who was voted outstanding girl for 1955 and 1956.

A third degree, the Order of the Rose, is given to members after 15 years of membership.

An international organization, Beta Sigma Phi has 3,000 chapters in the U.S., England, Hawaii, Japan and Scotland. Founded on an international level by Walter Ross 25 years ago, the sorority started with seven women as members and served as a kind of "book of the month" or literary organization. Today there are approximately 130,000 members throughout the world. National headquarters are in Kansas City, Mo.

Among the members are: Ruth Warrick, film star; Evelyn Ay, former Miss America from Ephrata, Pa.; Alice Teasdale Hobart, author; Jinx Falkenburg McCrary, tennis champion and radio and TV commentator; Mrs. Spencer Tracey and others.

Chapter Advisors

Local chapter advisors are: Mrs. Henry M. Scharf, social advisor to the Ritual of Jewels chapter; Mrs. Robert Knouse, R. 4, studies and cultural advisor to the Ritual of Jewels chapter; Mrs. Bernard Little, member advisor of the Littlestown chapter.

Officers of the Exemplar or Xi Alpha Chi chapter are: President, Mrs. Donald C. Uber; vice president, Miss Rae Strohman; extension officer and recording secretary, Mrs. Ray Ellis; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Donald Joseph; treasurer, Miss Mary Heintzelman.

Officers of the Ritual of Jewels or Epsilon Delta chapter are: President, Mrs. Donald Jacobs; first vice president, Miss Donna Hamers; second vice president, Miss Stella George; recording secretary, Mary Ann George; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Harry Spangle; treasurer, Mrs. Donald Doersom; extension officer, Mrs. Magnus Flaws.

Allentown, Pa. of the Eastern League is connected with the St. Louis Cardinals.

HOLIDAY TAKES 13 LIVES IN PENNA. MISHAPS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thirteen persons lost their lives in accidents in Pennsylvania during the 30-hour Fourth of July holiday period (from 6 p.m. Tuesday until midnight last night).

Two highway accidents took four lives; five persons drowned and four were killed in other types of accidents.

Joseph Longhi, 22, of Clifton Heights, and John Shields, 23, of Eddystone, were killed in Ridley Park early Wednesday when their car veered out of control and smashed into a tree.

On the same day, John Stanley, 51, of Laurel, Del., and O. L. Jones, 35, of Sharptown, Md., died when Stanley's truck, loaded with crates of apples, tore through a guard rail on Rt. 230 near Lancaster and plunged into a pond. State police said the two apparently suffered fatal injuries before the truck sank beneath the water. They said Stanley probably fell

Drown In Dam

Catherine McDonough, 18, and Fritz Williams, 20, both of Homewood, drowned Tuesday night in the Allegheny River at Pittsburgh. The girl called for help while the pair was swimming in a cove. Young Williams went to her aid but the turbulent waters carried both over a nearby dam.

Carl Wagoner, 10, of Prospect, drowned early on the fourth in Minister Run Creek, Tionesta. He slipped into the creek while wading with four other children and his father's efforts to rescue him were unavailing. Firemen recovered the body three hours later.

Betty Seman, 11, of Johnstown drowned in a crowded swimming pool on the Fourth at Fun City Park near her home.

Falls On Steps

Marty M. Heid, 17, of Beaver, drowned last night in the Ohio River at Kobuta, Pa., while swimming with a group of friends.

Coleman Joyce, Pittsburgh, died in Allegheny General Hospital Tuesday night shortly after he was injured in a fall on the steps of a northside swimming pool. Clyde H. Jones, 58, chief engineer for the Titusville Water Works, was shot and killed early Wednesday. Dr. C. M. Sonne, Crawford County deputy coroner, ruled the shooting as involuntary manslaughter resulting from careless shooting too close to a populated area. State police said they questioned James N. Skees, 52, of Pittsburgh in connection with the shooting. Trooper Arthur Berardi said Skees told him he had shot at a bird several yards above Jones' cottage on Oil Creek.

Skull Fracture

Steve Vasey, 45, Duquesne, near Pittsburgh, died on the Fourth after suffering a fractured skull in a fall at his home the night before. George Schmitz, 72, was fatally injured yesterday when he fell 12 feet from a ladder while painting his home in Philadelphia.

HONESTY TEST

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—Randolph Owens think his hometown folks are more honest than average. He's lost his wallet four times, twice in Beaumont and twice in other cities. Both times in Beaumont his wallet, with money and papers intact, was returned. Elsewhere he got his wallet and papers back, but the money was gone.

Michigan State's explosive half-back pair of Clarence Peaks and Walt Kowalczyk averaged nearly six yards per carry during 1955.

JUSTICE DEPT. TO FILE SUIT AGAINST GM

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Dept. plans to file shortly a suit charging that General Motors Corp. has illegally gained a "monopolistic position" in the manufacture of buses.

GM officials in Detroit declined immediate comment on the announcement by Atty. Gen. Brownell last night that a civil antitrust suit will be filed in Federal Court for Eastern Michigan.

GM's share of the nation's bus manufacturing business has been estimated by official sources at from 70 to 80 per cent.

Brownell said there were no "political overtones" in the move and that no, it was not an attempt to counter the claims by some Democrats and that the Republicans are the party of "big business."

In response to another question on an NBC television program, Brownell said there had been no advance word of the antitrust action to his fellow cabinet member, Secretary of Defense Wilson, who formerly headed GM. He said the Justice Dept. treats everyone alike.

Brownell chose as a forum for his announcement of the action against GM a new program called "Press Conference."

A reporter not on the TV panel last night asked Brownell after the show why he chose a commercially sponsored TV show as the occasion to make such a disclosure. The reporter noted that Editor & Publisher, newspaper trade magazine, had criticized the idea of holding up any important announcement for a commercial TV program.

Brownell replied that the government believes in telling its story to the people through all media of information — newspapers, radio, TV, magazines and so on.

Boats judged for beauty and ability. The float, depicting a formal garden scene, featured a fountain in operation. The $50 second prize went to the Gettysburg Lions Club float which showed a group of young women in bathing suits in a motorboat, towing another young woman on water skis. The Rotary Club float won third prize, $25, and Cub Pack 73 received the $15 fourth prize for beautiful and original floats.

Juvenile Units

The awards for best appearing juvenile units were: $10, first, Cub Pack 79; second, Dawn Burg majorettes; $5 third, marching unit of Cub Pack 73.

Ribbon awards were presented for horse and pony entrants in the parade. The winners included: Best appearing English tack, Donald Peters, first; Constance Schroll, second; Charles Jacobs, third, and Bernard V. Miller, fourth.

Best appearing western tack, Donald Moul, first; Lester Brady, second; Richard Shealer, third and Dorothy Barnes and Jean Heltzel tied for fourth.

Ronald Topper won the ribbon for the best appearing pony and the awards for best pony and vehicle were: Leroy Winebrenner farm, first; Mary Bruce Wolff entry, second.

General Is Second

Lt. Gen. Charles E. Hart, commanding general of the Second Army, was the grand marshal for the parade. He led the procession to the judges' stand, then reviewed the parade as it passed that point.

Members of General Hart's staff were: Col. William G. Weaver, Burgess of Gettysburg; Col. Stewart Moyer, Col. Wilbur Plank, Col. Guy Brown of the Army Reserve and Lt. Col. Raymond L. Wisler, Air Force reserve; Capt. Charles L. Anderson, of the local Army ROTC; Lt. Donald E. Doersom, commanding officer of the local National Guard unit.

Fire Chief Donald W. McSherry, who also served as general chairman of the parade committee, headed the first division as marshal. His staff included Department President Richard M. Cole; Mrs. Nelson Groff, president of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Fire Department, and Mrs. Francis Yingling, past president of the Ladies Auxiliary.

The first division included the color guard of the local VFW, marching units from St. Thomas American Legion, the Emmitsburg American Legion, Catholic War Veterans of Bonneville, the local Howitzer Co. of the Second Battalion, 104th Armored Cavalry, Pennsylvania National Guard, drill team from the Dorsey Stanton post, Cub Pack 79 and Dallastown American Legion and York Post 127 musical units.

Second Division

Assistant Fire Chief Donald Staub was marshal for the second division. His aides were Glenn Weishaar, general chairman for the 93rd battle anniversary committee; Mrs. Francis Linn, vice president of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Fire Department, and Mrs. David Baker, chaplain of the auxiliary.

The second division included 16 floats, the honor guard of the American Legion, the Blue and Gray band and the Fairfield High School band.

The third division was headed by Second Assistant Fire Chief Frank Linn as marshal. Members of his staff included Donald Hammers, secretary-treasurer of the 93rd battle anniversary committee; Mrs. Donald Staub, secretary of the Ladies' Auxiliary, and Mrs. Lawrence Groff, treasurer of the auxiliary.

Fire Company Equipment

Fire department equipment and marching units, the third division. It was one of the best exhibits of fire fighting equipment ever shown in a local parade. Among fire companies with equipment in line were: Brunswick, East Berlin, Biglerville, Parkville, Pleasant Hill, Emmitsburg, Thurmont, Bendersville, Centennial, Bonneauville, Kingsdale, Taneytown, Cashtown, Pennville, Arendtsville, Littlestown, Union Bridge, Fairfield, Barlow, New Oxford, Irishtown, McSherrystown, Conowing, Greenmount, Fountaindale, Abbottstown, York Springs and Gettysburg. Also in the line were marching units of various fire companies, the Stewartstown Auxiliary, the Gettysburg High School Senior Band, and the Blair Post Drum and Bugle Corps with the McSherrystown Fire Company marching unit.

Heading the Fourth Division was the Gettysburg High School junior band, members of the Gettysburg and Carroll-Adams Riding Clubs, and ancient autos of members of the Gettysburg unit of the Antique Auto Club of America.

There was one mention of Gettysburg's forthcoming 150th anniversary celebration in the parade. Fred H. Attinier, John Y. Crow and James A. Roth sported beards to promote the beard raising contest being held by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in connection with the anniversary.

The rain Wednesday night caused cancellation of fireworks for the second straight night, and reduced the crowd at the firemen's carnival at the Recreation Field for the third night in a row.

Area Is Flooded

Much of Wednesday was devoted by firemen to drying out and repairing the festival grounds, equipment and awards, after a deluge Tuesday night. The entire area was flooded. "Firemen, seeking to raise funds through this year's carnival to replace 'Old Smokey,' the 20-year-old pumper of the department, were hopeful of large crowds and good weather Friday and Saturday evenings.

Parade Chairman Glenn Weishaar said that the fireworks not set off Tuesday and Wednesday night's will be added to the display previously scheduled for the remainder of the week.

Because of the rain wiping out the carnival the auxiliary plans to sell chicken corn soup Friday and Saturday mornings at the engine house. Persons wishing to purchase the soup were asked to bring their own containers.

house. He was able to spend half an hour in the morning on his practice golf green. But a heavy rain washed out plans for more of that in the afternoon.

And while two of the four Eisenhower grandchildren arrived for a visit, Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty reported there were no fireworks.

David Eisenhower, 8, and Barbara Anne, 7, were driven up yesterday from Ft. Belvoir, Va., in time for lunch. Their parents, Maj. and Mrs. John Eisenhower and two sisters, Susan, 5, and Mary Jean, 7 months, are expected for the weekend.

Dick Hoover of Akron, Ohio, succeeds Buzz Fazio of Detroit as the American Bowling Congress Master champion. Prior to this year Hoover had finished third the last two years.

Neither rain, nor cold nor wind holds any fear for these youngsters who braved the elements to witness the colorful parade held in Gettysburg Wednesday evening. These youngsters were photographed seated on the curb in front of the judges' reviewing stand in front of the court house. In the background John Bowers, one of the official counters for the judges, is well shielded under an umbrella. (Lane Studio)

TRAFFIC DEATHS OVER HOLIDAY EDGE NEAR 130

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation's traffic deaths over the Fourth of July appeared edging toward the preholiday estimate of 130.

With final figures still to come in, the traffic toll for the 30-hour period starting at 6 p.m., local time, Tuesday and ending last midnight was 126. In other violent deaths, 72 drownings were reported and there were 34 deaths in miscellaneous accidents for an over-all total of 232.

No fireworks fatalities were reported this year.

The number of traffic fatalities as well as the over-all total was far greater than that reported on Memorial Day (109 and 174) and compared with a normal traffic toll of 80 for a Wednesday in early July.

May Reach 150

The National Safety Council, which before the holiday had said 130 persons might be killed in automobile accidents, said indications were the final toll may approach 150.

"It's running even worse than we feared," said Council President Ned H. Dearborn. "And this is in the face of splendid efforts of law enforcement authorities who have put on a vigorous campaign."

The council had hoped that by rigid enforcement and driver caution the death toll could be held to 80.

In the only other one-day Fourth of July observance since World War II—in 1951—there were 105 traffic deaths.

DIES ON FOURTH

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Mrs. Martha Dodson, 60, former librarian at Susquehanna University and the Sunbury, Pa., public library, died suddenly after a heart attack yesterday at the home of her brother, Russell Snyder, here.

First prize for the best historical float, was awarded to the Sons of Union Veterans Post 112. It was the seventh time they had won first honors.

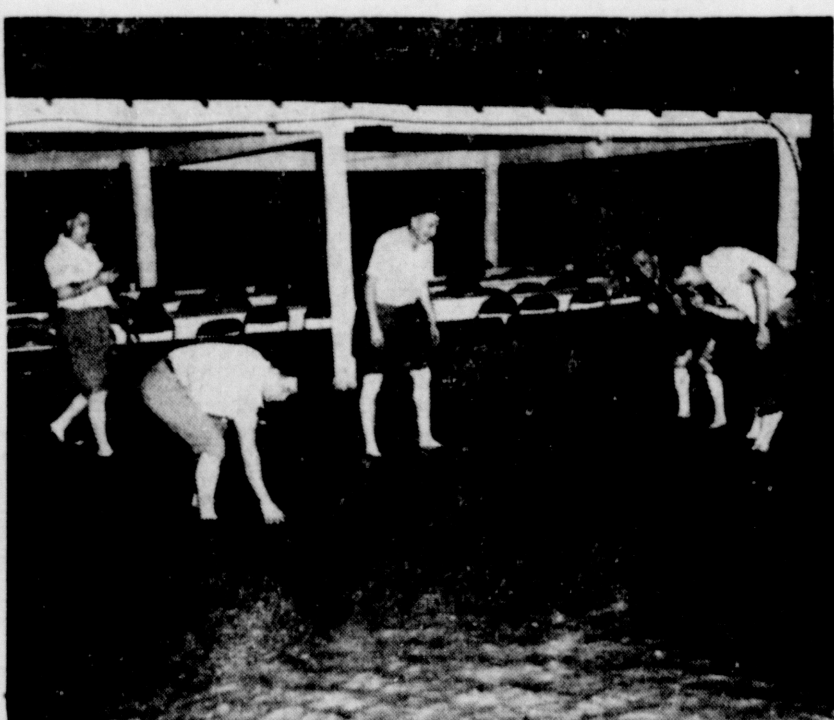

James Rose is the Confederate standardbearer shown the SUV float. Next is Wilbur Nett, with sword, commanding the Confederate force. Patrick Roth is shown kneeling with the rifle; Ira K. Kilburn and Oscar Stevens are the Confederate soldiers at the cannon. Union "forces" include David Tawney, cannoneer, at the far side; Curvin Heist, David Schwenk and Clester Shriver. Others on the float, representing soldiers and wounded include: Clair Sterner, Charles B. Ashbaugh, Joseph Kerrigan, Dr. Joseph H. Riley, Paul Snyder, Barry Snyder, Amy Riley, Peggy McDermitt, Connie Riley, who played the marimba and Thomas McDermitt drummer. Dale Shultz was driver.

Salvage At Midnight

Rain, 2.48 inches of it within less than two hours, deluged the firemen's 93rd Battle Anniversary festival at the Recreation Field here Tuesday night. The amount was the largest July 4th period rainfall in more than 50 years of weather records. At spots water six inches deep flowed across the field. Another 1.12 inches of rain Wednesday and early this morning plus continuing rain through the day wiped out the festival for tonight. If weather clears, the festival will be held Friday and Saturday nights.

Firemen shown salvaging articles outside the refreshment stand include Assistant Fire Chief Frank Linn with broom, Fire Chief and parade chairman Donald W. McSherry, S. Frank Smith, Alvin Bupp and Richard Finkboner.

Shown inside the kitchen are Billy Shealer, perched atop a table; Chief McSherry, S. Charles Smith, Alvin Bupp, Assistant Chief Linn, Norman Groff and Glenn Weishaar, chairman of the 93rd Battle Anniversary program.

to leave the vicinity, but police permitted one reporter, one still photographer and one newsreel man to remain in a secret place.

Area Combed

It was learned that an area of approximately a mile around the Weinberger home had been combed for clues, and then cleared today of all but regular residents. Officers were stationed throughout, in homes and other places where they could watch.

A hundred reports were being checked throughout the New York City metropolitan area of month-old babies being seen under suspicious circumstances.

A bakery truck driver set off a search in the area of Manhattan's 67th street and 1st avenue. He said he saw a man carrying what appeared to be a pink baby blanket, though he could not see whether there was a baby in it. Police could not find the man.

The infant boy was temporarily unattended at the time of his kid-

HARRIMAN AND TRUMAN OMIT POLITICS, CHAT

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman had breakfast today with Gov. Averell Harriman, a contender for the Democratic presidential nomination, and said afterward "We did not discuss candidates."

"We talked about everything under the sun—my trip to Europe, the forthcoming Democratic convention, the welfare of the country and the welfare of the world," Truman said.

"We also discussed the forthcoming Democratic victory in November," Harriman said.

On his customary morning walk before breakfast, Truman reiterated his intention to remain neutral in the Adlai E. Stevenson-Harriman rivalry for the nomination.

Answers Question

The statement was in response to a question on his attitude toward the possible candidacy of Sen. Stuart W. Symington of Missouri for the Democratic nomination.

"I'm in the same position as with Harriman and Stevenson; I want to remain neutral," Truman said.

In reply to another question he remarked that he had said in Europe that "I was very happy when Sen. Kefauver was defeated in California."

"I have an inclination toward somebody else besides Kefauver," Truman said after breakfast. "But I don't like to discuss it because he (Kefauver) might be nominated and I would have to support him."

"His Kind"

Harriman remarked that "I have never said anything against any of the candidates. Some Democrats are not my kind of Democrats, but Stevenson and Kefauver are my kind."

Truman said he probably would meet with Stevenson later in Chicago.

"Gov. Harriman and I have been the closest of friends since I was vice president," Truman said. "Mr. Stevenson and I have been close friends since he was governor of Illinois."

When asked whether he would be active in support of Stevenson if he is nominated, as he would be for Harriman, Truman said "I'll be in there fighting wherever they want me."

Will Broadcast Leader Conference

HARRISBURG (AP)—A taped recording of Gov. Leader's news conference today will be broadcast tonight.

The half hour conference will be edited at Harrisburg radio station WHP to 15 minutes and will be broadcast AM and FM at 10:30 p.m. (EDT).

Other stations in eastern Pennsylvania will be able to pick it up for either simultaneous broadcast or recording for later broadcast.

For western Pennsylvania, the same setup will be started next week.

The United States has about nine million skilled workers and technicians.

napping.

It had been reported earlier that the well-to-do parents were prepared to comply with the ransom demand.

"Mixed-up Person"

An effort was made at first to hush up the abduction. Neither police nor the family nor neighbors would discuss it. But word leaked out as the hunt spread.

Then, police sources disclosed that the ransom note went substantially like this:

"I hate to do this to you but I am in great need. I am scared stiff. You must put $2,000 in small bills in a garage . . . before 10 o'clock tomorrow or we will kill your baby. We could ask for more but we ask only for what we need."

Commented one policeman: "The work of an amateur and . . . a badly mixed-up person."

Gone In 15 Minutes

The sky was overcast when Mrs. Weinberger put Peter out for a midafternoon airing on the back patio. She tucked him into his carriage, then went back into the house to talk to her maid.

Not more than 15 minutes later she stepped out again to see how he was faring.

He was gone. In his place in his carriage was the ransom note.

Secretly the heartick parents notified Nassau County police. Shortly detectives were swarming through the neighborhood, asking questions about possible strangers.

One Meager Clue

They got one meager clue. Two teenagers told of a shabby car and a stranger in it parked about 300 feet from the Weinberger home.

Terror spread over the neighborhood, and children were hustled in off the streets. Neighbors were convinced that any of their children would have been taken had not the Weinberger child been so accessible.

As the search for Peter Weinberger fanned out, FBI agents joined the investigation.

The Weinbergers' other child, Lewis, is 4.

U. S. MEDIATORS TRY TO REVIVE STEEL TALKS

By WILLIAM A. SWARTWORTH
PITTSBURGH (AP) — With the five-day-old steel strike about to cut more sharply into the nation's business after a holiday lull, federal mediators undertake today to pinpoint disputed issues and revive contract negotiations.

Joseph F. Finnegan, chief of the Federal Mediation Service, and two aides slated a late-morning session with David J. McDonald, president of the striking United Steelworkers, and an afternoon conference with basic steel industry representatives.

Finnegan termed the meetings "exploratory" and for the "purpose of discussing the real differences between the union and the industry representatives."

To impose "freeze"

Tomorrow the government intends to clamp a temporary freeze on selected steel items now stockpiled in warehouses to assure that defense producers will have enough supplies to continue work for as long as possible.

Once defense needs are satisfied, the government plans to lift the freeze, possibly within two weeks.

Meanwhile, Detroit Steel Corp. became the third nonstrike firm in two days to boost prices in anticipation of added labor costs. Major mill products were boosted $7 to $16 a ton.

Detroit Steel, whose contract with the USW runs until July 30, operates plants at Detroit, Portsmouth, Ohio, and New Haven, Conn., with a total employment of 4,500.

Price boosts of $8 to $9 a ton previously were announced by Copperweld Steel Co. and Alan Wood Steel Co., near Philadelphia.

McDonald and management negotiators haven't met since talks broke off in New York last Saturday, triggering the walkout of 650,000 USW members against 90 per cent of the country's basic steel producers.

Holiday Helped

The normal slowdown of business over the Fourth of July holiday has retarded economic effects of the strike.

Still, close to 47,000 workers in allied industries — principally railroads and trucking — have been furloughed or notified of impending layoffs. The number is expected to climb considerably this week.

Many Great Lakes ore ships, with no place to take their cargoes, are tied up at Cleveland and other points.

Two principal issues — length of contract and immediate pay gains — reportedly stymied settlement efforts.

Steel company negotiators, in their last offer, proposed a 52-month pact which they said provided a 17 2/3-cent hourly package increase the first year, including a 7.3-cent-an-hour wage boost.

Union officials called the offer inadequate. They computed the value of the "package" at 14 cents. Just what the union wants in the way of a pay hike and length of contract never has been spelled out publicly.

Women Of The Moose

"Making money almost any way they can," as one woman of the Moose sums it up, and the sponsorship of a girl student nurse throughout her entire training are the two significant and worthwhile achievements of the Gettysburg chapter of the Women of the Moose.

A unique, humanitarian service is offered to all potential nurses with a scholarship given annually and enthusiastically by this women's organization. The scholarship is given on the recommendation of an advisory committee, a letter of recommendation from school authorities and a committee of the Moose Women. The girl must not necessarily be a resident of Adams County or have any Moose affiliation. She must, however, be a resident of Pennsylvania. The scholarship committee also has some indication that the student will continue with her training and will complete it, so that the investment will not have been in vain.

Women Raise Funds

Fund raising by Women of the Moose is accomplished by selling a variety of things during the year such as: dish cloths, Christmas corsages and candles, hostess, etc. The current item is a plastic envelope-style pocketbook.

The women sold war bonds, operating booths at the Murphy store and at the Moose home.

For 13 years Women of the Moose have served the community. Formed in November 15, 1942, the Moose women launched their club work with 68 members. The officer in charge of the institution of the group was Mrs. Eva Boese, senior regent of the Hanover chapter, assisted by other officers of that unit. Mrs. Freda Clinger, then junior graduate grand regent, from Lewistown, was the principal speaker.

The chapter actually grew out of a request by the men of the Moose who felt a women's group might add to the prestige of the club and create a warmer, friendlier environment. The late Charles Lauer, well-known secretary, assisted.

Install Officers

Officers installed November 15 were: Mrs. Virginia Lauer (Myers), senior regent; Mrs. Enola Evans, junior regent; Mrs. Fern Myers, graduate regent; Mrs. Ruth Utz, chaplain; Mrs. Marie McGlaughlin, recorder; the late Mrs. Carrie Felix, treasurer; Mrs. Eleanor Fox, arguer; Mrs. Ida Dunkin, sentinel; Miss Sara Miller, guide; Mrs. Erma Keffer, assistant guide, and Mrs. Edward Culver, pianist.

In addition to local community projects the women join in national campaigns for the Loyal Order of the Moose. Although the women are an organization set apart from and yet enjoying similar privileges and complete freedom as the men's organization. They lend a hand to masculine projects when the need arises.

Women have chaperoned teen-age parties and supervised children's games at the Moose picnic each year. Special committees were named yearly to plan the organization's "Mooseheart," home for children in Mooseheart, Ill., and "Moosehaven" home for the aged in Orange Park, Fla.

Eleven committees compose the organization: Publicity, hospital, child service and care, membership, ritual, library, Mooseheart Alumni, social service, Mooseheart and Moosehaven. The Women of the Moose meet on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month. The committees alternate at preparing programs for meetings. Outside speakers are often invited to speak on a topic closely allied to their field of work. An especially unique activity of the women is their annual "Christmas in October" project when they collect gifts for Mooseheart and Moosehaven for Christmas. The women wrap the gifts in gay Christmas wrappings and prepare them for shipment.

Moose Degrees

After joining the "Women of the Moose" the next degree is the "Academy of Friendship." For this a member must sponsor two other members and be a committee chairman. The chapter must have received the Award of Achievement before any award is given to an individual member. The third degree is the College of Regents degree for which the member must have served as Senior Regent and Graduate Regent, sponsored two members (the chapter having received the Award of Achievement).

Today Women of the Moose have 349 members. Members who have served as regents are: Virginia Lauer Myers, Enola Evans, Fern Myers, Thelma Yingling, Margaret Bender, Martha Strasbaugh, Ruth Tate, Catherine Shealer, Marcia Harpster, Marie Keller, Rosetta Johnson, Jennie Riggall, Faye Neary and Mary Cole.

National Honor

Achieving national distinction one member of the local Women of the Moose eventually became president of the College of Regents, a national W.O.M. group. Mrs. Virginia Lauer Myers, a founder of the local unit, presided over this group for one year from 1953 to 1954. The group is a branch open only to regents or past regents. As president she visited other women of the Moose chapters in various parts of the country. She also acted as advisor to chapters throughout the country and was guest of honor at many of the chapters' functions. When Mrs. Myers' term of office terminated last year, she conferred the degree of College of Regents on nearly 550 women in Mooseheart, Ill. For the last two years Mrs. Myers has been on the College of Regents Board.

The officers of the WOM are: Senior regent, Mrs. Evelyn Rose; junior graduate regent, Mrs. Mary Cole; junior regent, Miss Martina Strasbaugh; chaplain, Miss Hilda Newman; recorder, Mrs. Ruth Lee; guide, Mrs. Hulda Keffer; assistant guide, Mrs. Janet McKenrick; arguer, Mrs. Kathryn Mayhall; sentinel, Mrs. Florence Breneman; pianist, Mrs. Thelma Yingling.

Does Bad Climate Cause Colds?

No, colds occur in widely different climates at about the same season.

They affect about the same percentage of people in one region as in another. Apparently the greatest contributing factor is the change to indoor crowding, especially in schools, during the winter months.

Children acquire and transmit the disease more readily than adults.

Your doctor can give you advice which will do much toward protecting you from colds.

MOSCOW ISSUES APOLOGY ON RED DICTATORSHIP

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia's leaders, attempting to answer questions raised by their February disclosures of Stalin's tyranny and misdeeds, have issued a 6,000-word explanation which will also fail to satisfy many people.

Their explanation, boiled down: With their help Stalin made himself a folk hero and dictator; then they were afraid to do anything about it because they didn't think the Russian masses would understand or back them.

"Where were you? What role, if any, did you play in Stalin's crimes? Why didn't you stop him? Why did you wait till he died to expose him?"

Those were the questions asked by Communists and non-Communists alike after the present Russian leaders, Stalin's closest associates, denounced him as a villain. They had put themselves on a hook.

They also embarrassed all those non-Russian Communist leaders elsewhere who had been Stalin's subservient yesmen. Their own party members could ask them: "Didn't you ever suspect Stalin? Why were you never critical of him?"

The explanation, given by the Russians' central committee, is supposed to be an answer. But it is of a kind that will leave non-Communists unconvinced and may deepen doubts about present leaders in the mind of some party members.

"Expedient" Choice
The committee said that when Lenin died, even though he had warned against Stalin, the leaders thought it "expedient" to let Stalin become the No. 1 man. Then Russia faced such enormous problems — in trying to make communism succeed, in overcoming internal opposition, and withstanding outside pressures — the leaders decided that what was needed was "iron discipline, ever-growing vigilance, and a most strict centralization of leadership."

So the leaders agreed to dictatorship, preferring that to trying to win without. Again the yardstick was expediency.

Later, when Stalin was firmly established as a national hero, the men around him didn't dare to get rid of him because they didn't think the people would stand for it.

Admit No Part
The present leaders admit no part in Stalin's crimes but don't deny knowing about some of them. They found out a lot about Stalin's crimes, they say, after Stalin's death.

What has puzzled non-Communists ever since the February disclosures about Stalin was why the present leaders pulled out all the stops. Why did they go so far? Did they have to? The Central Committee explains: It was done to prevent ever again a recurrence of despotism in a Communist society.

In short, they wanted to assure a democratic society, as they understand the term. With this explanation they no doubt hope to make communism more attractive to non-Communist people.

Major Flaw
Yet there is a major flaw in their explanation that Stalin was not a necessary product of communism and the present leaders will make sure there can be no dictatorship again.

Stalin became a tyrant because Russian Communists found it expedient to let him become one. By their own words they said a "strict centralization of leadership was necessary." They agreed to it and approved it.

So, their explanation revealed that since they could justify tyranny when communism was under pressure, there is no reason to believe it would not arise and be justified again under new circumstances.

TWO ARE RENAMED
HARRISBURG (AP)—Franklin W. Ruth Jr., Lykens, and Charles T. Douds, Englewood, N. J., today held appointments as members of the Pennsylvania State University board of trustees.
Gov. Leader renamed the men Monday. They were appointed to the board shortly after the Legislature adjourned. The new action follows through on the expiration of their terms Monday.

TWO SENATORS CONCERNED OVER IKE'S 1956 PLANS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Morse (D-Ore) said Tuesday it is President Eisenhower's "clear obligation" to tell the country quickly whether he intends to remain in the running for a second term.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) said a second term would be "bad for the President, bad for the country and bad for the world." Sparkman said he doubts Eisenhower ever could be more than "a part-time President."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said on Monday "I haven't seen anything resounding" in connection with Eisenhower's Feb. 29 announcement he was available for the Republican nomination again.

Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate Republican leader, said in a separate interview he has not talked with Eisenhower since his June 9 intestinal operation, but "I think the President is going to run all right."

Virtually A Miracle
Vice President Nixon, at a stop-over on Guam en route to Manila, seemed to be thinking along similar lines.

Nixon said at a reception "it would be virtually a miracle" if a Democrat defeated Eisenhower for re-election this fall.

Nixon qualified this by adding: "Assuming the President would not change his mind"—an apparent reference to the Feb. 29 statement.

Morse, who has been critical of many of Eisenhower's policies, said he thinks the time has come for the chief executive to speak out on his plans.

"We are all greatly concerned about the health of the President, irrespective of partisan politics," Morse said. "The domestic and foreign affairs of our country are in too critical a condition for the people to be kept in doubt much longer as to whether he can regain his full vigor so that he can assume the full—not partial—responsibilities of his office."
"It is his clear obligation to make known immediately whether

Coroner Waits For Lab Report

HONESDALE, Pa. (AP)—Wayne County Coroner H. Howard Raught says he is awaiting a laboratory analysis before issuing a death certificate for Mrs. Helen S. Nason, who died Saturday.

Mrs. Nason, 52, was the wife of Harry B. Nason Jr., editor of the Honesdale Citizen Times. Her husband said he found her dead in their home here.

Raught said on Monday he ordered an examination of the vital organs to determine the cause of death.

The body will be taken to Wilkes-Barre for cremation.

Mrs. Nason, a reporter on the Citizen Times, worked as fashion editor under the name Helen Alberman for the old Philadelphia Record. Her husband was a feature editor on the Record, a managing editor of the old Evening Ledger in Philadelphia, and a former managing editor of the New York Post.

DULLES CITES RUSSIAN PERIL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite "tangible evidence" of forces inside Russia which may someday ease the war threat, Secretary of State Dulles doesn't want to see the United States let up in its preparedness program.

"It would be reckless to say... that as long as the Soviet Union is spending approximately 20 percent of its gross national production on policies that are primarily hostile to us, that we should cut down materially on efforts which we believe are needed to meet that peril," he told a House Appropriations subcommittee in testimony made public this week.

Dulles' testimony, released in censored form, was given May 24 and June 13 while supporting President Eisenhower's $4,900,000,000 foreign aid program which is now before a Senate-House conference committee in reduced form.

Under questioning, the secretary of state said he felt there was no likelihood of a general war originated by the Soviet Union than was perhaps the case a year ago.

CLAIMS SOVIET INVASION WAS PLANNED FOR '48

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A disbarment case witness testified this week that U.S. Communists in 1948 got orders to pave the way for a Soviet invasion of the United States.

The witness—a former FBI undercover agent—said also that he joined with Communists in discussing the "elimination" of circuit Court Judge George E. Holt of Dade County as troublesome to the party in Miami.

Joseph D. Mazzei of Pittsburgh said that he was sent to Miami in 1948 "by the city of Pittsburgh Communist party to assist in coordination of plans here, because this is a seaport. When I arrived, I learned the local cell was much disturbed because a judge named Holt was making trouble for them. There was talk of doing something about it—eliminating him..."

Holt received national publicity in 1948 when he set bond at $100,000 for Mrs. Leah Adler Benemobsky, who refused to say whether she was a Communist. Later he sentenced 35 persons for contempt.

is "less likelihood of a general war originated by the Soviet Union than was perhaps the case a year ago."

Then, without elaboration, he added: "I cannot record any comparable improvement as regards Communist China."

in a probe of Communist activities.

Received Warning
Holt told newsmen on Monday he received a telegram June 16, 1955—a day after Circuit Court Judge and Mrs. C. E. Chillingworth vanished at Palm Beach—telling him: "You're next."

No clue has been reported in the disappearance of the Chillingworths under circumstances that suggested violence.

Mazzei was a witness in a hearing on disbarment of Leo Sheiner, a former Miami lawyer accused of refusing to say whether he was or had been a member of the Communist party. Edwin E. Walter of Naples, who identified himself as a member of the party in Dade County from 1945 to 1949, testified Sheiner had been a member.

Sheiner testified he was not a party member on or after April 1, 1952, but refused to testify as to his affiliations before that date.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT

Miss Brownell, 20, is the eldest of the four Brownell children. She is currently attending Dickinson College at Carlisle, Pa. Her fiancé has just received his law degree from Dickinson. He is also a graduate of Allegheny College at Meadville, Pa.

PHILIPPINES SOVEREIGNTY ACKNOWLEDGED

MANILA (AP)—The United States Tuesday acknowledged complete sovereignty of the Philippines over all U. S. military bases in this island republic.

A joint U. S.-Philippine announcement was issued here shortly after Vice President Richard Nixon arrived to represent President Eisenhower tomorrow at the 10th anniversary celebration of Philippine independence.

The United States now operates three major bases in the islands — Clark Air Force Base and the Sangley and Subic Bay Naval installations. There are also four minor installations.

A joint statement issued by President Ramon Magsaysay and Nixon said:— "The United States since independence of the Philippines has always acknowledged the sovereignty of the Philippines over bases and has reaffirmed full recognition of such Philippines sovereignty over them.

Control Of Bases
"The United States will transfer and turn over to the Philippines all title papers and title claims held by the United States to all land areas used either in the past or presently as military bases, except those areas which may now or will be used by United States for diplomatic and consular establishments."

The statement was issued after a two hour conference between Magsaysay and Nixon.

The announcement supercedes an opinion rendered by Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell in 1953 which asserted the United States still has title to bases acquired before Philippine independence.

WANT FARM TO PAY FOR TAXES

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The federal government is seeking sale of the 130-acre farm home of the late Samuel D. Schofield in an effort to claim $135,738 spent to improve the farm—an amount the government says Schofield should have devoted to his back income taxes.

The noted Philadelphia criminal lawyer died July 3, 1955, owing nearly a million dollars in income taxes from 1947 through 1953 when he failed to file returns, the government said.

U. S. Atty. W. Wilson White filed suit in U. S. District Court this week to have the farm sold. Known as Anderson Place, the farm is in Schuylkill Twp. near Phoenixville.

Schofield's son, Joseph Anderson Schofield III, who was to get the farm, was named as a defendant in the government suit, along with W. Bradley Ward, administrator of the Schofield estate, and Marvin Comisky and the Liberty Real Estate Bank and Trust Co., court-appointed guardians for the son.

Have $180,000 For New Industry

WELLSBORO, Pa. (AP)—The community of Wellsboro still had ready today a check for $180,000 to present to a Texas firm for establishment of an industrial plant in this Tioga County borough.

The Dresser Industries, Inc., promised the community it would locate a plant with a million dollar payroll here if citizens would raise $180,000 for plant improvements.

A fund raising drive produced $209,000. The balance will be used to set up an economic redevelopment corporation to attract other industries to Wellsboro.

A representative of Dresser Industries, manufacturer of casings and other equipment for oil and natural gas operations, was expected in Wellsboro yesterday to accept the $180,000 check.

The community was advised that other appointments prevented his arrival but that he hoped to come to Wellsboro today.

The company expects to employ about 300 persons in the Wellsboro plant.

3 Firemen Injured In Lebanon Blaze

LEBANON, Pa. (AP)—Fire gutted a Cumberland Street shoe store in downtown Lebanon Tuesday.

City fire fighters battled the blaze 2½ hours during a heavy rain storm. Three firemen suffered minor injuries or smoke inhalation. The Lebanon fire department declined to estimate the loss, but it was placed unofficially at $50,000.

The store was operated by the Hanover Shoe Co., Hanover, Pa. The company said the building was a "total loss."

Its suit the improvements, made during the 1947 to 1953 period, were a fraudulent conveyance of money owed to the United States.

MUNICIPAL AUTHORITIES TO BE CHECKED

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Justice Department says it will make on-the scene checks in its study of the financial status of Pennsylvania's municipal authorities.

Murray D. Friedman, York, the department's chief accountant, promised yesterday, "We (the department) will go into the field to see what is going on once we get started."

The field inspections, he said, are expected to begin within the first month of the study.

"I don't want to say too much about that phase of the study but our statistical summaries will uncover some authorities that don't fit into the pattern of all others in the field," he explained. Most important figures in the statistical analysis will be the percentage of expenses against income.

Ask Financial Reports
On June 5 Atty. Gen. Herbert B. Cohen wrote each of the state's 1,031 authorities requesting complete financial reports for the latest three fiscal years and certified reports of audits.

Cohen took the unprecedented action in line with a part of the 1945 Municipality Authorities Act. "We're not attacking this problem as though we were going after crooks," Friedman emphasized. "This is purely a constructive service and since it is new we intend to tread lightly."

Cohen gave the authorities until June 29 to submit the data. Friedman said that "about 85 per cent" of the total have responded "or are accounted for." He added that some have requested and been granted extensions of time.

Youngster Prayed After Stabbing

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—A 13-year-old boy, sick with remorse over the confessed slaying of a girl cousin, told police on Monday of erecting a weird shrine in a vacant lot and visiting it before and after the stabbing Friday of Carol Drennon, 14.

Officers said the boy, John Pat Drennon, complained of severe cramps and appeared on the verge of collapse. He was given sedatives and placed in detention. No charges have been filed.

Sam Robards, assistant chief of police, quoted the youngster as saying he "just had a sudden urge to kill someone" and that after Carol's stabbing "he knelt down beside her and prayed."

Carol was stabbed 30 times. A steak knife with a four inch blade, described as the murder weapon, was found under the boy's home.

IRON AGE SEES NO EARLY PACT

NEW YORK (AP)—Iron Age, national metalworking weekly, took a dim view Tuesday of prospects for an early settlement of the nationwide steel strike.

"There is nothing to suggest an early end to the strike," the magazine said. "The walkout could easily run to eight weeks or more."

The shutdown is costing the nation 2,100,000 tons of steel ingots a week, the magazine said. Ninety per cent of the nation's steel production has been stopped by the walkout of 650,000 members of the United Steelworkers.

Iron Age drew up this timetable of strike effects:
Two weeks—"Complete upset" of every major building and con-

KILLER OF THREE SLAIN IN WOODS NEAR WARREN, O.

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—The violent death of triple slayer Alfred (Buck) Wilson has lifted the fear which clouded lives of residents in this northeastern Ohio area for 12 days.

But their wonder still remained — wonder at how the stuttering, 200-pound ex-convict eluded one of Ohio's greatest manhunts to roam within a few miles of his June 21 crimes.

Wilson himself never spoke to the state highway patrolman who killed him. Clutching the Luger pistol he used to slay three wom-struction program in the country. Four weeks—"Most users conserving inventories to maintain a semblance of production."

Eight weeks—"Chaos to all major steel-consuming industries, including automotive, but possibly excepting canning."

The magazine predicted the union eventually will sign a three-year contract calling for increases totalling 20 cents an hour.

"Settlement of the strike will be followed by a steel boost of $3 a ton—or more—with subsequent advances as each contract year passes," the magazine said.

en, he toppled from a tree, unconscious with two bullet holes in his brain and shotgun pellets in his arm.

He died five hours later in a hospital early Monday night.

The 37-year-old truck driver did tell a little of his story to his brother-in-law, James W. Lawson, to whose home the patrolmen tracked him.

He said he had three bullets left in his Luger and was going to make Lawson drive him here so he could kill his common-law wife, Juanita, and his brother-in-law, Andrew Brown.

"I want to get them," he told Lawson. "I'll have one bullet left, and that'll be for me."

Police Closed In

It was anger at his wife that started Wilson on his triple murder tour. She had left him and charged him with beating her. He started out to kill her and shot her two sisters, Brown's wife, Geraldine and Mrs. Hazel Bots. Then, during his flight, he chanced upon 16-year-old Nancy Worthington, whom he'd never met, and kidnapped and killed her.

While Wilson was talking to Lawson late yesterday and the two men were making a meal of beans, bread and coffee, three state highway patrolmen were closing in on Lawson's tiny brown house near Leavittsburg, three miles west of here. They were acting on a tip that Wilson was seen entering Lawson's car at a dairy store in Leavittsburg.

Patrolman Russell H. Duffy Jr.,

23, of Cuyahoga Falls, whose pistol bullets killed Wilson, said Lawson, nervous and shaking, answered the door and told him Wilson was not there.

Captured In Woods

"Then he walked outside past me and went to the car," Duffy said. He told Patrolman Floyd M. Smith of Findlay and Corp. Joseph Szabo of Parma that "Wilson was going out the back door."

"We radioed for help, then the three of us ran across a field," Duffy continued. "About 200 yards from the house was a wooded area, and we slowed down a little, knowing Wilson was quite a woodsman."

"I heard some bark being scraped and glanced upward at a tree about 30 feet away. Wilson was about 20 feet up with his back to me, his Luger in one hand."

"I yelled: 'Drop your gun or I'll blow your head off.'"

"Wilson didn't answer, and I shouted again. He started to turn and pull his gun up, and I figured that was it. I shot four times and heard the shotgun (Patrolman Smith's) go off about the same time."

RICE SAYS STATE SAVED $750,000 IN CAR BUYING

HARRISBURG (P) — New procedures applied to Pennsylvania's multimillion dollar automobile buying-selling program paid off with a first year dividend of over one million dollars.

Secretary of Property and Supplies John S. Rice estimated Tuesday that the state saved about $750,000 through fleet purchases and another $360,000 by selling its used cars at public auction.

The new buying-selling policies were instituted just a year ago by Gov. Leader who said they would eventually mean a 2½ million dollar a year savings when in full operation.

Major changes in policy were the plan to sell used cars annually at auction instead of trading them in to dealers on new models and to buy new cars at a fleet discount or wholesale price.

Save $300 Per Car
"We now save about $300 on the cost of a new car by buying fleets of them at a time," Rice explained. "We also get an estimated $300 more for a used state automobile by public sales instead of trade-ins to dealers."

Department figures show that of 2,694 new cars bought under the program all but 16 were Fords, Chevrolets and Plymouths. They cost an estimated 3 million dollars. Eventually the state expects to replace its entire fleet of 3,600 cars every year.

On the selling side the state auctioned off 1,232 cars since last June and received about $500,000 for them or about $400 a car.

Some 10 Years Old
Many were models as old as 10 years. Less than 50 one-year-old models have been sold so far.

Rice said that most of the cars to be sold after Jan. 1, however, will be just a year old. The autos are sold at various locations throughout the state. Eventually there will be 10 permanent selling sites.

The department's new Automotive Bureau, created to supervise the program, received a low price of $58 for a 1946 model. The top price received in a used car was $950 for a 1955 sedan.

In the past autos were bought in small quantities at near retail prices. The state paid for expensive upkeep and repair over a period of years and then the car was traded in on a new auto at prices beneath the public sale value.

U. S. DISPLEASED WITH RED ALIBI ON JOE STALIN

WASHINGTON (P) — American officials said this week they are definitely not impressed with the Russian Communist bosses' explanation of why they did not oppose Joseph Stalin's dictatorship. They described the 6,000-word document, issued on Monday in Moscow, as a hastily drafted "alibi" and said it probably would fail to satisfy the outspoken complaints by Western European Red chieftains.

Officials who preferred to remain anonymous said the "explanation" merely echoed a Communist line first laid down by Polish and Chinese Red leaders in meeting the first rumble of outside criticism.

Triple Alibi
The Central Committee of Russia's Communist party, led by Secretary Nikita Khrushchev, came up with a triple barreled alibi, officials said, and it could be broken down this way:

1. Any move to oust Stalin was impossible because he had successfully fooled the Russian people into believing he personally was responsible for the war victories against Nazi Germany.

2. Opposition to Stalin's rule would have risked disunity at a time when "capitalist encirclement" threatened the future of Russia.

3. Many of Stalin's alleged crimes were not exposed until after he died.

"Incorrect Theories"
State Department specialists said Italy's Communist leader, Palmiro Togliatti, who was criticized by name in the Moscow manifesto, undoubtedly would refuse to accept Moscow's denunciation of his complaints as expressing "incorrect theories."

Acceptance of such a Moscow alibi, they said, would brand his complaints as a carefully staged maneuver along with those of American, French and British Communists.

Some top officials have been inclined all along to regard Togliatti's criticisms as a Moscow-directed move aimed at fooling European Socialists into believing they are now independent of Kremlin orders.

Secretary of State Dulles, however, said last Tuesday the complaints amounted to a "revolt" by outside Red leaders against the present Soviet leadership.

WASHINGTON (P) — The comptroller of the currency Tuesday issued a call for a statement of the condition of all national banks at the close of business Saturday, June 30.

HARRISBURG (P) — The Pottsville Water Co. recently asked for Public Utility Commission authorization to boost its rates for 11,821 consumers in Schuylkill County by $159,000 a year.

JACKSON, N. C. (P) — In a decade or so the Northampton County clerk of court will be needing a new supply of forms on which to issue capias ad testificandum.

Back in 1887, about 1,000 copies of the forms were printed. The clerk issued one in April of this year, leaving six on hand.

The form issued in April was the first one the clerk had needed in 10 years.

A capias ad testificandum is an order for a person to appear in court and testify.

TEAM WORK IN MARRIAGE SIDE TRACKS HAZARDS

The Associated Press
Memo to the bride: Get the groom into the kitchen as soon as possible. Why? Because it'll solve a lot of problems later.

If your man gets in the habit of giving you a hand with the dishes, setting the table or tossing the salad, you won't pout when you're stuck with a load of company dishes — he'll be at your elbow with a towel.

Team work counts in marriage, and many a divorce has been averted by a share-the-work plan. After all if the man of the house is finished with his work at sundown, why should the woman toil until the wee hours? Her day starts when his does.

Conducts Tests
Then too the Yale University School of Medicine conducted some scientific tests showing that the average male is a little less susceptible than the average female to "dishpan hands."

And what husband armed with this knowledge would risk having his little woman's hands become rough and red when his own may swish through detergent easily?

Home management specialists of the Ohio Extension Service reported recently that about two-thirds of 50 employed homemakers claimed regular help with housework from their husbands. But less than one-third of 50 full-time housewives had such help, maybe because they started asking for it too late.

Interest Factors
If you're going in for the husband-helper idea here are some pointers to help maintain his interest:

1. Make a game of it. Don't command him to help you. Put the apron around his neck and give him a big hug telling him what a big help he is each time.

2. Brag about him when friends are around. You don't need to detail his chores, but just a passing thought that you don't know what you'd do without his help will keep him in the kitchen mechanic mood.

3. If he has had an especially hard day, insist that he relax and you'll do his chores. He'll do the same for you another time.

4. Detergents really take their toll of hands, some more so than others. Get him in the habit of rubbing lotion on his hands after he finishes washing dishes, if that's what he elects to do. One of the new nonalkaline type lotions is pink and faintly fragrant, but he'll like it if you help him rub it on his hands.

5. If he does do the washing show him that it isn't necessary to have boiling hot water. He should rinse each dish before drying it too. But if he doesn't, ease yourself into the washing job and give him the wiping to do, rather than try to change his dishwashing method.

6. Whenever he volunteers to do something, be gentle if you must give constructive criticism, otherwise you might find he'll storm out of the kitchen never to be seen within its confines again.

Counts Fish In Ocean Waters

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (P) — How many fish are there in the ocean? A University of Michigan professor doesn't pretend to count them all. But he counts them by the hundreds in order to make an accurate estimate.

Assistant Prof. John E. Bardach was asked by the Bermuda government to help find out how many fish there are in the waters around the island to help the fishing industry.

So Bardach goes down, sits on the ocean floor with plastic slate and pencil and counts. He also has the aid of an aqualung and seven assistants equipped with flippers and breathing aids.

Working conditions are nice in the tropical waters, he says, and even the sharks and baracuda don't bother him.

SHARKS ATTACK

BURIN, Nfld. (P) — Two shore fishermen twice had to beat off a shark with their oars while fishing in a dory from a small schooner here. Sharks have been reported plentiful in Placentia Bay in recent weeks.

It's a good idea to understand the disadvantages of having a man helper at your beck and call for kitchen duty. Expect to find mashed potatoes on the ceiling, gravy on the floor, more pots than you ever knew you owned to be cleaned after he whips up a meal. You'll also have the most expensive meals human mind can contrive.

KLAMATH FALLS PROSPECTOR QUILTS DIGGING

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore. (P) — Prospector Earl Sheridan pulled up his stakes and abandoned his uranium claim at the busiest downtown intersection of this southern Oregon city.

He pitched a tent at Ninth and Main Streets early last Friday and began digging up the street. He said that his Geiger counter showed uranium underneath and that it belonged to him because he was a descendant of George Nurse, founder of the town.

Philosophical About It
He claimed that Nurse had deeded the town the streets, but that Nurse had retained mineral rights and that these rights had passed to him.

His attorney, said, however, that a search of records failed to show that Nurse had reserved such rights. Sheridan was philosophical.

STRAWBERRIES COME ALIVE IN CAKE 'N CREAM

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
The Associated Press

Nothing could be sweeter than ripe red strawberries and whipped cream atop hot milk sponge cake. Make the cake when you have time, cover it tightly in plastic see-through wrapping and store it in the refrigerator. When you're ready to bring forth a delightful dessert, add the strawberries and cream.

As soon as you bring your basket of strawberries home from the market, tumble them out into a big container where each berry will have room of its own, and refrigerate. Wash the berries just before using and hull those that are to be sliced. Leave the hulls on some of the loveliest berries for garnishing.

Another delectable way to serve fresh strawberries is to bake a sponge-cake for a roll from a standard recipe, then use sliced strawberries and whipped cream (sweetened) for the filling. When we do this, we like to add a little unflavored gelatin (softened in a little cold water and then dissolved over hot water) to the cream. This way the filling stands up well (after the cake roll is refrigerated) and slices perfectly. Some of the whipped cream may be used for frosting the cake and it can be garnished with whole berries. Shiny green leaves with strawberries nestling on them will make a pretty background for the platter from which you serve the cake.

Strawberry Sponge Cake
Ingredients: 1 cup sifted cake flour, 1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 egg, 1 cup sugar, 1 1/2 teaspoons pure vanilla extract, 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 6 tablespoons hot milk, 1 pint fresh strawberries, 2 tablespoons sugar, Vanilla whipped cream.

Method: Grease and line the bottom of a cake pan (8 by 8 by 2 inches) with waxed paper. Pre-heat oven to moderate (350 degrees). Sift together the cake flour, baking powder and salt. Beat eggs 7 to 10 minutes or until they are lemon-colored and about as thick as lemon-cream. Gradually beat in 1 cup sugar, vanilla and grated lemon rind. Quickly fold in sifted flour mixture all at one time, mixing only until just blended and using as few strokes as possible. Quickly blend in hot milk. Turn into the prepared cake pan. Bake 45 to 50 minutes or until cake tester inserted in the center comes out clean. Invert on a wire rack to cool 30 minutes. Then loosen cake around the edges and turn out onto a serving plate. Remove paper. In the meantime, wash, cap and slice strawberries; save a few uncapped berries for garnishing. Sprinkle sliced berries over cake. Top with vanilla whipped cream. Garnish with whole, uncapped strawberries. Makes 9 servings.

French Dessert
The French have a wonderful way of pouring soft custard over fresh strawberries and topping with small poached meringues. This dessert is called Oeufs a la Neige. Fresh fruits other than strawberries may be used, of course. At the wonderful old Ritz Hotel in New York we used to enjoy this dessert on occasion with sliced fresh peaches. When we ate it again recently at Henri Soule's Pavilion Restaurant, the meringues had threads of caramelized sugar over them.

UNHATCHED FISH COUNT

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP) — It's all right to count fish before they're hatched. In fact, it's the thing to do, says Dr. H. C. Hardy, English marine biologist.

The Oxford University authority on fishery predictions told an international symposium: "We can count fish by counting fish eggs. This is so, not because we can predict how many eggs will become fish, but because the number of eggs is an accurate indicator of how many fish there are in the breeding stock."

APPROVE PLAN

DENVER (AP) — The Colorado Board of Education has approved a plan under which charges of subversive activity made against teachers in the state's public schools would have to be submitted in writing and under oath to require action.

A 20-member citizen's committee suggested the procedures in dealing with such charges — aimed at eliminating "hearsay" accusations submitted by "faceless informers."

The committee defined subversive activity in teachers as membership in or adherence to the Communist party or advocacy of "any change in the forms of government" of the state or nation "by means of force or violence."

TOWARD THE SCRAPHEAP

MANKATO, Minn. (AP) — Two men were arrested after they spent many hours cutting up a $10,000 bulldozer so they could sell it for scrap. The earth moving machine had been parked in a field by a sand and gravel firm.

APPLIES GOOSE, GANDER THEORY TO FILES' RIGHT

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — The goose-and-gander theory makes sense to William Rogers, deputy attorney general. He has dished out the same sauce that once was handed him.

This particular sauce was prepared by Herman Wolkison, a middle-aged Justice Department lawyer tucked away in a small office where he has served under both the Truman and Eisenhower administrations.

Years ago Wolkison began investigating a question never finally settled because no Congress ever appealed to the Supreme Court for an answer:

Look At Records
Does a president have the right to refuse to let Congress look at records in the executive branch of the government if he says it would be against the public interest to disclose them, even to Congress?

Wolkison, after examining the conflicts between Congress and the White House on this question all the way back to Washington's time, decided the answer was yes. He found that 16 presidents, including Washington, had refused Congress access to certain files. Wolkison put his study into a 102-page document which soon came in handy for President Truman.

17th Refusal
In 1948 Truman became the 17th president to refuse when a Senate committee, searching for Communist infiltration of the government, demanded some files from the executive branch. He sent along Wolkison's study to support his decision.

The Republicans were running Congress then. And Rogers, a Republican, was at the time the committee's chief lawyer. The Wolkison document must have frustrated him.

He was quoted at the time as saying the committee would not challenge Truman's refusal. He said he hoped Truman didn't change his mind. Truman didn't.

Now the Republicans are running the executive branch and the Democrats are in control of Congress. Recently Rep. Moss (D-Calif.), head of a subcommittee investigating the administration's curbs on information, extended an invitation.

Doesn't Attend
He asked Atty. Gen. Brownell up for a talk. Brownell didn't go. Instead, Rogers, his chief aide as deputy attorney general, sent Moss a declining note for his boss. Along with it he sent something else: Wolkison's document. He apparently felt that if the document was all right for a Democratic administration to send a Republican Congress in 1948, the Democrats couldn't complain if a MUMMASBURG — Mrs. David Mathews is spending the week with her husband who is stationed at Fort Monroe, Va.

Mrs. Ross Knipple was a recent visitor at the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Miller, Hanover.

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harmon and family were Mrs. Minerva Coulson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leatherman, Harrisburg.

Mrs. Rebecca Stull and daughter, Lorena, and son, James, and Leonard Trent recently visited Arlo Stull in Maryland. They visited relatives in Baltimore on Tuesday.

Mrs. Bruce Wilson and children, Gary, Rita and Dennis, Mrs. Clyde Wilson and son, Melvin, attended the Klingel reunion which was held near York, Sunday.

Mrs. James Crouse, Chambersburg, returned to her home after spending two weeks at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jere Keefer, while her husband was in camp at Indiantown Gap.

Mrs. Richard Hall and children, Cynthia and Gerard, Aberdeen, Md., returned to their home after spending a week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Keefer, while her husband attended the Metropolitan school for employees at New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Jeffcoat and children, of near Harney, were recent visitors at the home of Mr. Jeffcoat's brother-in-law and sister, Republican administration sent it along for a Democratic Congress to read.

If this keeps up — since there is no answer in sight on the question of a president's right to withhold files — Wolkison's document may travel up to Congress so many times in the next century it will look like a homing pigeon.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cullison and son, Kenneth, and daughters, Patsy and Nancy, spent several days visiting places of interest in Syracuse, Utica and Binghamton, New York, Canada and Niagara Falls.

WILL ASK BIDS ON RIVER WORK

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Corps of Army Engineers says it will advertise for bids in about two weeks for dredging of the Delaware River between Philadelphia and Trenton, N.J.

The work is part of a project authorized by Congress and President Eisenhower for the fiscal year which began July 1. In all, 6 million dollars was approved for deepening the river channel to a depth of 35 feet and for other channel improvements.

The engineers said yesterday they would call for bids also for reconstructing the Pennsylvania Railroad's Delair bridge to permit passage of ocean going vessels.

The contracts will be broken down into three different projects: The Delair bridge work, deepening of the channel to 35 feet between Allegheny Avenue in Philadelphia and the Delair bridge, and for the removal of mud and silt from the rock bed of the river between Trenton and Beverly, N.J.

"We Are Going" Are Last Words From Air Disaster

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"We are going," three brief words on the brink of eternity. With that epitaph, two modern airliners plunged to earth less than a mile apart in the Grand Canyon of Arizona Saturday.

Wrapped up in the unfinished phrase, urgently spoken before death by an unidentified crew member of United Air Lines Flight 718, was the fate of 128 lives lost in the scattered wreckage.

Left behind was deepening shock and grief in hundreds of homes across the country, transforming expectations of happy reunions into sorrow.

Twenty-three passengers aboard Trans World Airlines Flight 2 were from the Kansas City area alone, among them an entire Kansas City family of four—a mother, father and their two children.

Expected New Baby
Another, Dennis J. Phelan Jr., 31, was en route home to Kansas City for the birth of his second child. The child, a 6-pound, 15-ounce girl, was born Sunday. Phelan had gone to California on business, and was returning earlier than planned in order to be with his wife.

One passenger remained unidentified for hours because he had carried a TWA pass issued to a man named "Miller."

Also among the victims were an 11-year-old boy off on a Wisconsin fishing trip, a father accompanying his two children to a Midwest farm for the summer, and a welfare worker who started her vacation a week early so she could surprise her parents.

TWA stewardess Beth Davis, 24, of Richfield Springs, N.Y., had just won a scholarship and planned to stop flying.

Reported Plane Late
At Kansas City, Chicago, St. Louis and other points along the routes relatives and friends glanced anxiously at clocks.

At first, the clerks told them:

"The plane is late. We will have more information later."

Time moved on. Cigarettes littered the floors.

Then came what they had begun to dread: "I'm sorry, folks, there's some bad news," airline officials announced.

Sobs, cries of disbelief followed. "Where's my Uncle John," one little girl asked her father. "I want to see him, Daddy."

A grandfather wordlessly crushed a telegram announcing the departure from Los Angeles of a grandson aboard one of the airliners.

Showed Scene Of Crash
An ironic coincidence is TWA's calendar for the year. For July it displays a color photograph of Grand Canyon, scene of the dual crash.

Robert F. Shirley, flight captain of the United Air Lines plane, would have been with the company 19 years in September. Shirley, 48, was the father of two girls and lived at Palos Verdes, Calif.

The pilot of the other airliner, Capt. Jack S. Gandy, 42, had served with TWA 14 years and was a veteran of 20 years in the air. He lived in Kansas City. His wife and two sons were visiting in Fremont, Neb., when word of the crash reached them.

Says U. S. Set Off Another Nuclear Test

TOKYO (U) — The Japanese weather bureau reported the United States apparently set off still another nuclear test explosion in the Bikini area Tuesday.

The bureau said abnormal atmospheric pressure waves and blast occurred about 3 a.m. Japanese time (1 p.m. EST Monday). It said both the earth shock and the pressure waves resembled those recorded after known nuclear explosions in the past in the Bikini atoll, but this time they were "conspicuously weaker."

Similar evidence of nuclear blasts was reported by the Japanese observatory May 28 and June 26, but the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission refused to confirm or deny that tests were made on those dates.

The first test explosion by the United States this year at Bikini was May 5. On May 21 a hydrogen bomb was exploded. The AEC announced a series of tests would continue through June.

NO OAK WILT DISEASE FOUND ON IKE'S FARM

HARRISBURG (U) — The State Agriculture Department said Tuesday it has detected no sign of Oak Wilt Disease near President Eisenhower's Gettysburg home.

Trained observers who flew over Adams County and the Gettysburg Battlefield and skirted the Eisenhower property reported the nearest spot of Oak Wilt infection was found in the mountains on the western edge of Franklin County, about 25 air miles from Gettysburg, Dr. Thomas L. Guyton, director of the state Bureau of Plant Industry, said.

He is supervising a statewide airplane search for the spotting and elimination of infected trees. At the end of eight flying days, department observers spotted approximately 40 locations of oak trees dying from the destructive fungus disease. This represents one-tenth of the locations spotted in the same time last year, Dr. Guyton said.

Discovered In 1950
He said the reduced number may be due to the late spring, or the result of efforts on the part of the commonwealth to eradicate the pest since it was first discovered in Mifflin County in 1950, or both.

Half of the infection spots located to date are in Perry County where the department, in cooperation with the State Department of Forests and Waters and the Pennsylvania State University, is conducting experiments to determine spread and control of Oak Wilt.

Two planes in eight flying days have made two county-wide flights over Bedford, Franklin, Fulton and Perry Counties and one flight over Adams, Cumberland, Huntingdon, Juniata, Mifflin and York counties.

By mid-July the department expects to have completed at least

GIRL TRAPPED 9 DAYS UNDER WRECKED AUTO

SALT LAKE CITY (U) — An 18-year-old California girl says she heard automobiles passing within 300 feet of her as she lay helpless for nine days under the wreckage of a car. Only 20 feet away lay the body of her fiancé.

Jean Margetts of Sunnyvale, Calif., spoke briefly yesterday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Margetts, as she recovered in a hospital room.

She was rescued Tuesday night after an airplane spotted the wreckage at the bottom of a 300-foot embankment just off heavily traveled U.S. Highway 40 east of farm, near Orrtanna.

Prof. and Mrs. Charles Kissel, Pennwynn, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Donaldson.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Donaldson, daughter, Beverly, Orrtanna-Fairfield Rd., and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Topper, Gettysburg R. 3, spent the weekend in Atlantic City.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pepple and son, Lowell, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fissel and son, Jeffy, were Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Fox at a lawn party at the Fox home in Hagerstown.

Salt Lake City. Highway patrolmen at first thought Jean, as well as her fiancé James Hixon, 22, Salt Lake City, was dead. But when a patrolman lifted a heavy log from her legs, she cried out.

Disappeared June 24
The two had been the object of a statewide search since they disappeared while on a fishing trip June 24. They were to have been married in September.

Jean was badly emaciated when brought to a Salt Lake hospital. She had had no food or water during the nine days she was trapped. She also received a skull fracture. At first listed as critical, she was later reported in fair condition. Mr. and Mrs. Margetts reported she regained consciousness at times and told a little about her ordeal.

Could Hear Traffic
"She was quite coherent the little she talked to us," Mr. Margetts said. "She said she regained consciousness often and could hear traffic passing along the highway above but was unable to call out because she was so weak."

"Mrs. Margetts and I must have driven within a few hundred feet of her dozens of times and didn't know she was there as we tried to help in the search for Jim and Jean."

The collegiate rowing course on Onondaga Lake at Syracuse, N. Y., has the finish line only 500 yards from the New York State Thruway.

NO FIREWORKS

ELIZABETH, N. J. (U) — There were no fireworks but plenty of excitement around the home of Patrolman Chester Paterek for July 4. He got an emergency call at the Second District headquarters and rushed home to help his wife alone deliver a 7 pound 15 ounce boy named Christopher. Mother and son are doing fine at East Orange General Hospital.

HARRISBURG (U) — The State Banking Department issued a call Tuesday for a report of all state and private banks and trust companies under its jurisdiction at the close of business, Saturday, June 30. The report must be published.

GREEK REBELS APOLOGIZE FOR CONSUL'S DEATH

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Eoka, the underground organization pushing a campaign of violence to unite Cyprus with Greece has apologized for the June 16 bomb slaying of a U. S. vice consul in Nicosia. Letters from Eoka to news correspondents termed the death of William P. Boteler "a tragic mistake."

"We are very sorry about the loss of the American diplomat," the letter said.

Boteler, 26, of Washington, D.C., was killed and two other Americans were wounded when two bombs were thrown into a restaurant in downtown Nicosia. British authorities on Monday lifted a dusk-to-dawn curfew on the Greek quarter of Nicosia, imposed after the bomb attack in which Boteler was killed. But violence continued elsewhere in the drive to end British rule of this Mediterranean island colony.

A Greek child was killed and two British soldiers were wounded when a bomb was hurled at a British motorized convoy in the village of Koma Yialou, on the Karpas Peninsula. The bomb thrower was slain as he attempted to flee on a bicycle.

In a Nicosia suburb, the home of a member of the British security forces was the target of a gasoline bomb. No one was injured and the house was damaged only slightly. The man who threw the bomb was arrested.

Some 40 miles west of Nicosia more than 1,000 persons fought a giant forest fire that has raged three days in the Troodos Mountains.

Cypriot authorities said the fire was started accidentally. It has destroyed at least five square miles of timber about 15 miles from the area where 12 British servicemen died in another forest fire June 17 while searching for Eoka members.

ORAN, Algeria (AP)—The French gullied a 20-year-old Algerian rebel in Oran at dawn Tuesday for throwing a grenade into a theater. The attack killed 4 persons and wounded 20 others.

Laid Ben Ahmed was the third rebel beheaded in the 20-month-old Algerian uprising. Officials feared the execution might set off a wave of nationalist reprisals. The rebels have threatened 10-1 vengeance for each execution.

DANCE, BEER, YOUTHS—BOOM!

ASBURY PARK, N. J. (AP)—"You put beer in the stomach of kids 15 to 20 and you've got nothing but trouble," says Police Chief Fred A. Lembke.

Summing up the riot which broke out around Convention Hall during a rock and roll dance late Saturday night, Lembke said Monday it was just "a case of hot music and cold beer not mixing." The rioters ranged in age from 15 to 20, he said, and his investigators "found plenty of empty beer cans" at the scene.

"If we could get the people selling these kids the beer, we'd have no more of this trouble," the chief said. "A kid simply can't drink and keep his feet on the ground." An estimated 200 youths took part in the melee along the boardwalk area which was jammed with a weekend crowd of some 75,000. A riot call was issued and some 50 police from a dozen Monmouth County towns finally quelled the disturbance.

Four youths arrested were released in $500 bail each Monday for a hearing next week. Four juveniles under 17 years

New Turnpike Bids $90,000 Higher

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission Tuesday received rebids for resurfacing work totaling almost $90,000 more than bids originally submitted before the projects were recalled for public newspaper advertising.

Atty. Gen. Herbert B. Cohen, on learning of the higher bids said "I'm going to have the highways department check the bids. I am sure everyone is interested in knowing why the work should cost so much more within such a short period of time."

The work is for resurfacing with bituminous 39 miles of the original turnpike in the Bedford-Irwin area at a total cost of over two million dollars.

Two of today's low bidders on three projects were the same firms submitting unofficial low several months ago in response to letter requests for bids.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate leaders predicted Tuesday Congress will quit for the year some time between July 21 and July 28.

Sen. Clements of Kentucky, acting Democratic leader, told reporters he thinks both houses can clean up their work by July 28 "or earlier."

of age were released in custody of their parents. Police identified them as three 15-year-old Negroes from Asbury Park—Robert Bunting, Edward Lee Brown, and Herman Weaver—and a 16-year-old Negro from Chester, Pa., Bernell Smith.

HST OPPOSED TO HEALTH ISSUE IN CAMPAIGN

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman said Tuesday the question of a part-time presidency would be a presidential campaign issue but quickly added "I don't want to see the President's health put into the campaign."

"Nobody can be a part-time president and be a success," he asserted.

Upon his return from a European trip, the former president told newsmen the part-time presidency issue began "before the heart attack."

President Eisenhower suffered a heart attack while vacationing in Denver last summer and now is convalescing at his Gettysburg farm from an intestinal operation.

Asked directly if he thought the President's health would be a campaign issue Truman said:

"I hope not. That's not a matter that should go into the campaign at all."

"That's a matter that concerns him (Eisenhower) and his physicians. I don't want to see the President's health put into the campaign. It's not a good thing. It's not right."

He said if Eisenhower announces he is "on the road to recovery" that should end the health issue.

"I like the present occupant of the White House and I don't want to make any statement which reflects on him," Truman continued.

"I appointed him chief of staff and put him in charge of NATO. I don't see how much more I could do to show I like him."

Truman said he would like to have a man in the presidency with "young ideas" but disclaimed any intentions of running again himself.

"If nominated I won't accept. If elected, I would not serve," he asserted. "I've had my share of public service. I'm 72 and I don't see any reason to go into the game again."

Truman claimed he had no personal choice of a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination. "I'll tell you when I arrive in Chicago," he said referring to the Democratic National Convention to be held there in August.

When the liner United States docked, the Trumans' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Daniel, were waiting for them. The Trumans will stay with them until they leave Saturday for their home in Independence, Mo.

NEW YORK (AP)—Mariano Delia, a 31-year-old underworld character with a record as a small-time bandit, was mowed down by shotgun blasts in gang style Monday night just nine days after he got out of prison. He died today.

The gunshots came from a moving car and felled Delia as he was about to enter his apartment house in Brooklyn.
